SAFETY & SECURITY

Creating a safe environment race weekend is everyone’s responsibility. Event attendees are encouraged to contribute to the overall safety of the event by reviewing and following the information outlined in this section.

EVENT ALERT SYSTEM
The color-coded Event Alert System (EAS) will communicate the status of race conditions leading up to and on race day. EAS levels range from Low (Green) to Moderate (Yellow) to High (Red) to Extreme (Black) based primarily on weather, as well as other conditions.

- Email and website communication during race week will inform event attendees of the current EAS level and provide race weekend preparation tips.
- Updates will be made at the Abbott Health & Fitness Expo via public address announcements and color-coded signs.
- On race day, event attendees are encouraged to stay tuned to the current EAS level via public address announcements and color-coded signs/flags at the start and finish areas and at each of the 20 aid stations along the course.
- If necessary, additional emergency information will be communicated via email and/or text message.

Event attendees should familiarize themselves with the Event Alert System prior to race day, remain alert for directions from race officials, announcers and volunteers, and take precautions to prepare properly for varying conditions on race day.

ALERT LEVEL	EVENT CONDITIONS	RECOMMENDED ACTIONS
EXTREME	EVENT CANCELLED/EXTREME AND DANGEROUS CONDITIONS	PARTICIPATION STOPPED/ FOLLOW EVENT OFFICIAL INSTRUCTION
HIGH	POTENTIALLY DANGEROUS CONDITIONS	SLOW DOWN/OBSERVE COURSE CHANGES/ FOLLOW EVENT OFFICIAL INSTRUCTION/ CONSIDER STOPPING
MODERATE	LESS THAN IDEAL CONDITIONS	SLOW DOWN/BE PREPARED FOR WORSENING CONDITIONS
LOW	GOOD CONDITIONS	ENJOY THE EVENT/ BE ALERT

MEDICAL SUPPORT

Medical support is available at 22 on-course locations: medical tents are located at all 20 aid stations with additional medical tents located between Mile 14 and Mile 15 and in the final mile. Medical tents are indicated by tall, red, blade signs with the medical icon. Each medical tent has access to ambulance service and is staffed by a team of medical professionals equipped with medical supplies and equipment.

In Grant Park, the Main Medical Tent, Podiatry Tent and Ice Station are located directly beyond the finish line. An additional medical tent is in Grant Park adjacent to the 27th Mile Post-Race Party. For the safety of all participants, only those requiring medical assistance may access the medical facilities. Participants who feel like they need medical assistance on race day are encouraged to seek help from a medical volunteer or to visit a medical tent in Grant Park or on course.

Lend a hand, save a life! Participants, volunteers and event staff are encouraged to watch an instructional Hands-Only CPR video in advance of race weekend. This training is critical and can be lifesaving.

AMERICAN RED CROSS REUNIFICATION SERVICES

If a participant is transported to a local area hospital at the discretion of the medical team, the American Red Cross of Greater Chicago’s Reunification Services staff will be on hand in Grant Park to provide information regarding that patient to family and friends. Reunification Services staff can be found in the Information Tents located throughout Grant Park as well as at the American Red Cross Reunification Services area. Family members may also call 888.659.9877 from 7:30 a.m. to 7 p.m. on race day to speak with a Reunification Services Operator to inquire about a patient. Refer to the course map for locations and inform friends and family of this service in advance of race day.

PARTICIPANT CANCELLATION (CANCELLATION BY YOU)

Even on the best of days, the marathon is a challenging endurance event. All participants should respect the distance and only partake in the event if properly trained and physically prepared to complete the distance. Participants unable to participate in the 2025 Bank of America Chicago Marathon can cancel their entry through Wednesday, October 8 via their participant account. While all event fees (entry, ancillary products, etc.) are non-refundable and will not be applied to a future event, participants who cancel their entry will have access to a guaranteed entry for the next event. Please note, this opportunity is not available to participants who received a guaranteed entry for the 2025 event through the 2024 cancelled entry, charity or tour group applications.

PREGNANCY AND POSTPARTUM POLICY

The Bank of America Chicago Marathon has put into place an exception to our standard event policies to permit deferral for participants who need to cancel their registration due to being pregnant, recently pregnant or postpartum.

In addition to the Pregnancy and Postpartum policy, the event will provide private and semi-private lactation spaces to registered postpartum participants and event attendees throughout race weekend. Participants with questions can contact the event by emailing office@chicagomarathon.com.

Visit chicagomarathon.com to learn more about the event’s Pregnancy and Postpartum Policy.

BANK OF AMERICA CHICAGO MARATHON APP, POWERED BY TCS

The Bank of America Chicago Marathon App, Powered by Tata Consultancy Services is the perfect resource to prepare for the 2025 Bank of America Chicago Marathon. Whether you’re running or spectating, the free mobile app includes everything you’ll need to be prepared for a great race week experience.

The 2025 official race app features unlimited live race day runner tracking, professional athlete profiles, live broadcast streaming, an interactive course map, participant bib share and more. Spectators can submit a digital cheer through the app for the chance for their message to be displayed on the Bank of America Chicago Marathon course as their participant goes by. Visit the “Interactive” page in the app to submit your message.

Make each mile more meaningful! A donate button will appear for any participants you track that are fundraising through charities using the haku platform. Help runners reach their fundraising goal and donate through the Bank of America Chicago Marathon App!

This year’s app also includes fifteen major leaderboards that will allow users to find race leaders across all tracked categories, from the professional athlete field to the open field. Full results of the 2025 Bank of America will be available in the app in real time.

The Mobile App is available in the App and Google Play stores.

GRANT PARK

The Marathon starts and finishes in one of Chicago’s most prominent parks, Grant Park. Grant Park is often referred to as Chicago’s “front yard,” spans 319 acres, and is home to the Art Institute, Millennium Park, Buckingham Fountain and the Museum Campus. The race begins at the intersection of Columbus Dr. and Monroe St., with participants running north to begin their tour of Chicago. Participants cross the finish line after making the turn from “Mount Roosevelt” (Roosevelt Rd. – one of the highest elevation points on the course) and return to the place where the racing began 42 kilometers earlier. The finish line area is energized by eager families and friends waiting for their runners to come “home.”

The Bank of America Chicago Marathon has a course time limit of 6 hours and 30 minutes. After this time, the course will re-open to vehicular traffic. You must maintain a 15-minute per mile pace (approximately) or faster, completing the full marathon distance—start line to finish line—within the event time requirement. Those who finish outside of the time limit may not be recorded or published as official finishers and may not receive full on-course support from aid stations and traffic safety personnel.*

Event organizers have created an alternative post-finish area for participants who complete the race outside of the official course time limit of 6 hours and 30 minutes. Between 4 p.m. and 6 p.m., after crossing the finish line, all finishers are directed to a field immediately west of the finish line to collect runner refreshment items, a finisher medal and in some cases their gear check bag. This area is also open to spectators, who can meet their participant in this area post-race.*

COURSE

The iconic Bank of America Chicago Marathon course takes participants on a looped tour through 29 of Chicago’s most vibrant and culturally diverse neighborhoods. It attracts more than 1.7 million spectators annually, and it’s globally acclaimed for its fan-friendly navigation. Runners tout the course as “fast and flat”; it attracts both beginners and the world’s best elite athletes.

MAP OF CTA STATIONS

COURSE AID STATIONS

20 aid stations are located along the course approximately one to two miles apart. Each aid station consists of the following amenities in this order:

- Medical Tent with access to a Runner Transport vehicle
- Standard and ADA portable restrooms
- Gatorade Endurance Formula (lemon-lime flavor)
- Public address announcer
- Water

Maurten is the Official Hydrogel Sports Fuel for the Bank of America Chicago Marathon. Out on course, runners can grab a caffeinated or non-caffeinated Gel 100, both containing 25 grams of carbohydrates, from the Hydrogel Fuel Depots at Mile 12.4 (near Aid Station 9), at Mile 15.7 (near Aid Station 12) and at Mile 18.1 (near Aid Station 14). Maurten Gels use patented Hydrogel Technology that enables smooth transportation of carbohydrates through the stomach during high-intensity exercise, reducing discomfort.

Aid Stations 16-18 (Miles 20.2-23) will offer Chiquita Bananas.

Runners are encouraged to stop at the Biofreeze Pain Relief Zone around Mile 21.2 (Cermak Road and Archer Avenue) where the Biofreeze Cooling Crew will be armed with Biofreeze spray to help Cool the Pain to get participants across the finish line.

Runners should familiarize themselves with the locations and offerings at each aid station and prepare for slower traffic in these areas. The aid stations are approximately two city blocks in length: tables with Gatorade Endurance Formula and water line both sides of the street. Continue moving through the aid station if the first tables are too crowded to obtain fluids.

CHEER ZONES

Bank of America Shamrock Shuffle Cheer Zone – 8K

Cheer on participants as they shamROCK through the Bank of America Shamrock Shuffle Cheer Zone located in Lincoln Park at the 8K mark. CHARITY PROGRAM

Since 2002, Bank of America Chicago Marathon participants have raised more than $358 million through the Charity Program. This feat is accomplished by individual participants who sign on to support an affiliated cause and commit to fundraising as a part of their Chicago Marathon journey. Every organization allows its team of runners the distinct opportunity to make more of their Marathon experience by not only accomplishing a personal goal on race day, but by contributing to a larger goal and giving back to a worthy cause.

For the Bank of America Chicago Marathon charities, their mission begins months in advance as they work to ensure runners accomplish their performance and fundraising goals. Each organization dedicates countless hours and resources to recruiting, planning and organizing their charity runner program. The experience begins with training runs for many of the runners along Chicago’s lakefront path and suburban locations and continues with gatherings race weekend. Charities focus on creating a memorable experience for their runners that lasts well beyond the finish line.

For a complete list of charities participating in this year’s Bank of America Chicago Marathon Charity Program visit www.chicagomarathon.com/charityprogram.

Charity Program growth

The Charity Program has grown from 14 charities with 1,674 runners in 2002 to over 200 charities with more than 18,000 runners in 2025. In 2024, charity runners raised a record $36 million to fund causes ranging from healthier school initiatives, medical research and animal assistance to foreign aid/humanitarian efforts and assisting families of those in the armed forces. The runners truly take the experience of the Bank of America Chicago Marathon beyond the confines of Grant Park and change lives around the world.

PROFESSIONAL ATHLETE FIELD BIOGRAPHIES.....28

PROFESSIONAL MEN - OPEN FIELD

JOHN KORIR | KENYA
BIRTHDATE: December 2, 1996
AGE: 28
RESIDENCE: Kenya
PERSONAL BEST: 2:02:44 (Chicago, 2024)

John Korir has made it known he is coming back to Chicago to defend his 2024 win and run fast. Korir’s victory last year was the second fastest in race history and followed third and fourth place finishes in the 2022 and 2023 Bank of America Chicago Marathons. The winning time of 2:02:44 makes him the eighth fastest man in history. This spring, Korir showed that his Chicago victory was no fluke by convincingly winning the Boston Marathon presented by Bank of America. Like his Chicago victory, his Boston win was the second fastest in race history. Korir has stated he’d like to run under 2:01, a feat only accomplished by the late Kelvin Kiptim who set the world record here in 2023 when he won in 2:00:35. Prior to his success in the Abbott World Marathon Majors, Korir won the Los Angeles Marathon twice. In his only other race besides Boston this year, he won the Boilermaker 15K in Utica, NY.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Champion, 2025 Boston Marathon presented by Bank of America
- Champion, 2024 Bank of America Chicago Marathon
- Runner-up, 2024 Ras Al Khaimah Half Marathon
- Third place, 2022 Bank of America Chicago Marathon
- 2022 and 2021 Los Angeles Marathon champion

TIMOTHY KIPLAGAT | KENYA
BIRTHDATE: September 18, 1993
AGE: 32
RESIDENCE: Kenya
PERSONAL BEST: 2:02:55 (Tokyo, 2024)

Timothy Kiplagat will make his U.S. road racing debut at the 2025 Bank of America Chicago Marathon. Kiplagat is seeking his first marathon victory since 2022 following runner-up finishes in the Rotterdam and Tokyo Marathons last year. His 2:02:55 finishing time in Tokyo makes him the 10th fastest man of all time. Kiplagat represented Kenya in the marathon at the 2023 World Athletics Championship in Budapest where he placed 13th. He was a training partner of the late 2023 Chicago Marathon winner and world record holder Kelvin Kiptum.

AMOS KIPRUTO | KENYA
BIRTHDATE: September 16, 1992
AGE: 33
RESIDENCE: Kenya
PERSONAL BEST: 2:03:13 (Tokyo, 2022)

A consistent presence in international marathoning, Amos Kipruto has five podium finishes in the Abbott World Marathon Majors, including a victory at the 2022 TCS London Marathon and a third place finish at last year’s Bank of America Chicago Marathon. In April of this year, Kipruto won the Haspa Marathon in Hamburg, Germany. He received the bronze medal at the 2019 World Championship Marathon and represented Kenya in the 2020 Tokyo Games, but did not finish the marathon. Besides his victory in London, Kipruto has marathon wins in Rome and Seoul. He trains with 2022 Chicago champion Benson Kipruto (no relation) and Boston and New York City winner Evans Chebet.

CYBRIAN KOTUT | KENYA
BIRTHDATE: June 6, 1992
AGE: 33
RESIDENCE: Kenya
PERSONAL BEST: 2:03:22 (Berlin, 2024)

CyBrian Kotut’s last two Abbott World Marathon Majors appearances have resulted in podium finishes. He will attempt to claim his first victory in his Chicago debut. At the 2025 Boston Marathon presented by Bank of America, Kotut was involved in a thrilling sprint finish for second place with Alphonce Simbu. The pair was given the same finishing time of 2:05:04, but Simbu took the runner-up spot, more than two minutes behind winner John Korir. Last fall, Kotut was a close runner-up at the BMW Berlin Marathon, finishing five seconds behind winner Milkesa Mengesha. No stranger to breaking the tape, Kotut won the 2022 Hamburg Marathon and 2023 Amsterdam Marathon. He also has marathon victories in Paris, Krakow and Firenze.

JACOB KIPLIMO | UGANDA
BIRTHDATE: November 14, 2000
AGE: 24
RESIDENCE: Uganda
PERSONAL BEST: 2:03:37 (London, 2025)

Jacob Kiplimo’s much-anticipated marathon debut lived up to the hype this past spring. The world record holder in the half marathon finished second in the London Marathon in a time of 2:03:37, just 10 seconds behind Sebastian Sawe, and set the Ugandan national record in the process. Kiplimo obliterated the half marathon world record last February when he ran 56:42 in Barcelona, 48 seconds faster than the previous record. In August, he set the course record at the Buenos Aires Half Marathon, running 58:29 and winning by nearly a minute and a half. Just 24 years old, Kiplimo already has two world cross country titles, bronze medals in the 10,000m at the Olympics as well as gold medals at the World Championships and Commonwealth Games in the 10,000m and 5,000m.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Half Marathon world record holder, 2024 Barcelona Half Marathon
- Second place, 2025 London Marathon
- Second place, 2024 Copenhagen Half Marathon
- First place at 2024 and 2023 World Athletics Cross Country Championships
- Eighth place, 10,000m at 2024 Paris Olympics

PHILEMON KIPLIMO | KENYA

BIRTHDATE: October 10, 1998
AGE: 27
RESIDENCE: Kenya
PERSONAL BEST: 2:04:01 (Hamburg, 2025)

The 2025 Bank of America Chicago Marathon will be a rematch for Philemon Kiplimo and Amos Kipruto. At the Haspa Marathon in Hamburg earlier this year, Kipruto pulled away from Kiplimo in the final kilometers to win by 15 seconds. Kiplimo (no relation to Jacob) won the Bogota Half Marathon in July. Chicago will be his third Abbott World Marathon Majors appearance following an eighth place finish in Berlin in 2023 and a DNF in 2022. He has half marathon victories in Prague (2022) and Bahrain (2021) and won the 2019 B.A.A. Half Marathon.

GEOFFREY KAMWOROR | KENYA

BIRTHDATE: November 22, 1992
AGE: 32
RESIDENCE: Kenya
PERSONAL BEST: 2:04:23 (London, 2023)

Geoffrey Kamworor returned to the top of the marathon podium for the first time in more than five years, winning the 2025 Rotterdam Marathon in a time just 10 seconds off his personal best. Prior to that win, his last marathon victory was the 2019 TCS New York City Marathon. He also won that event in 2017. During the victory drought, Kamworor remained a top competitor, scoring top five finishes in London and New York and winning the Kenyan 10,000m trials in 2021. The former world record holder in the half marathon, Kamworor is a three-time World Half Marathon champion and a two-time World Cross Country champion. He also represented Kenya in the 10,000m at the 2016 Rio Olympics. In August, he won the Antrim Coast Half Marathon in Northern Ireland in 59:51, 90 seconds ahead of second place.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Placed in the top 5 at an Abbott World Major Marathon 9 times
- Champion, 2025 NN Rotterdam Marathon
- Second place, 2025 Barcelona Half Marathon
- Champion, 2021 Kenya Olympic Games Trials 10,000m

CONNER MANTZ | UNITED STATES

BIRTHDATE: December 8, 1996
AGE: 28
RESIDENCE: Provo, UT
PERSONAL BEST: 2:05:08 (Boston, 2025)

Conner Mantz is on a mission to break the American record in the marathon and he believes his best chance is to do it in Chicago. At this year’s Boston Marathon presented by Bank of America, Mantz showed he is capable of bettering Khalid Khannouci’s 23-year-old record of 2:05:38. There, he finished fourth in 2:05:08 on the challenging, but not record-eligible, course. In January of this year, Mantz broke Ryan Hall’s 18-year-old American record in the half marathon with a 59:17 finish in Houston, and he’s been unstoppable ever since. He bettered his time by two seconds at the New York City Half Marathon, and after Boston, he won the BOLDERBoulder 10K and the Beach to Beacon 10K. Mantz’s last Chicago appearance came in 2023 when he finished 6th in 2:07:47. He made his marathon debut here in 2022. Mantz was the top American in the 2024 Paris Olympic Marathon, finishing in eighth. A two-time NCAA Cross Country champion at Brigham Young University, Mantz is coached by Olympian and 1994 Chicago runner-up Ed Eyestone. He lives in Utah with his wife, Kylie.

GALEN RUPP | UNITED STATES

BIRTHDATE: May 8, 1986
AGE: 39
RESIDENCE: Portland, OR
PERSONAL BEST: 2:06:07 (Prague, 2018)

One of the most decorated distance runners in American history, Galen Rupp returns to Chicago for his sixth Bank of America Chicago Marathon appearance. As the 2017 champion, he’s the only American man to win the race in the last 24 years. He also had a runner-up finish in 2021 and a fifth place finish in 2018. A four-time Olympian and the 2016 Olympic bronze medalist in the marathon, Rupp holds three of the six fastest times ever run by an American man, two of which came in Chicago. He’s the winner of the last two U.S. Olympic marathon trials. Prior to moving to the marathon, Rupp won the silver medal in the 10,000m at the 2012 London Olympics. He’s an eight-time U.S. champion at that distance. Rupp lives and trains in Portland, Oregon. He is married with four children.

ZOUHAIR TALBI | MOROCCO

BIRTHDATE: April 8, 1995
AGE: 30
RESIDENCE: Colorado Springs, CO
PERSONAL BEST: 2:06:39 (Houston, 2024)

This year, Zouhair Talbi joined the U.S. Army Reserves and became a United States citizen. Still, he must wait three years from the date of his last global competition to compete for his new country. Talbi represented his native Morocco in the 2024 Paris Olympic Marathon so he will not be able to represent the U.S. until 2027 or set any American national records. He is, however, able to win U.S. titles and claim U.S. prize money in races that don’t select international teams. This is Talbi’s second trip to Chicago this year. In the summer, he won the Bank of America Chicago 13.1. Three weeks later, he was runner-up at the Boston 10K. In 2024, Talbi won the Chevron Houston Marathon in 2:06:39, a personal best and a course record. Talbi is based in Colorado Springs where he lives with his wife Elizabeth and their son Amir who was born in March.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Champion, 2025 Bank of America Chicago 13.1
- Champion, 2024 Houston Marathon
- Second place, 2024 NYC Half
- Third place in both 2022 B.A.A. Boston 5K and Half Marathon events

BIRTHDATE: December 17, 1988
AGE: 36
RESIDENCE: Kenya
PERSONAL BEST: 2:20:22 (London, 2022)

Since her 2006 international debut when she won the bronze medal in the 5000m at the World Junior Championships, Mary Ngugi-Cooper has been amongst the top distance runners in the world. The Kenyan now comes to Chicago for the first time seeking her first Abbott World Marathon Majors victory to go along with her eight top 10 finishes in series races. That includes a second and third place finish in Boston in 2021 and 2022, respectively. At this year’s Boston, she finished just outside the top 10, placing 11th. In 2022, Ngugi-Cooper founded the Nala Track Club in Kenya to help provide young Kenyan women an opportunity for success in semi-professional running through a supportive and safe training camp experience. She is the widow of Sammy Wanjiru, the 2009 and 2010 Chicago Marathon champion who passed away in 2011. The couple have a daughter together. Ngugi is coached by British middle distance legend Steve Cram.

MARCEL HUG | SWITZERLAND

BIRTHDATE: January 16, 1986
AGE: 39
RESIDENCE: Switzerland
PERSONAL BEST: 1:17:47 (Oita, 2021) World Record

The most dominant wheelchair racer of all time, Marcel Hug is a five-time Chicago champion, winning his fifth title last year. He set the course record here in 2022 and again in 2023. He is also an eight-time champion at both the Berlin and Boston Marathons, winning Berlin last in 2024 and Boston in the spring of this year. A week later, he won his seventh TCS London Marathon. Hug is a six-time Abbott World Marathon Majors series champion. At the 2024 Paralympics, Hug won a silver medal in the 5000m (behind Daniel Romanchuk) and in the marathon he dominated, winning by nearly four minutes to win his third consecutive Paralympic Marathon.

Hug owns the world record for the marathon of 1:17:47 set in Oita, Japan in 2021. He has raced faster in Boston, but the course is not record eligible. Besides his medals in Paris, Hug has a silver medal in the marathon from the 2012 London Paralympics marathon and gold medals from the 2016 Rio and 2020 Tokyo Paralympics as well as medals in the 800m, 1500m and 5000m. He’s known as the silver bullet for his trademark silver racing helmet.

SIMON LAWSON | GREAT BRITAIN

BIRTHDATE: June 6, 1982
AGE: 43
RESIDENCE: England
PERSONAL BEST: 1:25:06 (Boston, 2017)

Simon Lawson is a two-time bronze medalist at the Commonwealth Games, making his first podium in 2018 then following it up four years later. He represented Great Britain at the 2016 Rio Olympics where his hydration system burst before the start of the race leading to a disappointing 14th place finish. In 2017, he set what was then a British record at the Boston Marathon presented by Bank of America. Lawson grew up riding BMX bikes before moving to motorcycle racing where he was a junior British Speedway champion. A crash during practice in 2001 paralysed him from the chest down. He took up wheelchair racing in 2015 and finished 10th in his debut at the London Marathon.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Bronze medalist, 2018 Commonwealth Games Marathon
- Bronze medalist, 2022 Commonwealth Games Marathon
- 2016 Paralympian, Marathon

BRIAN SIEMANN | UNITED STATES

BIRTHDATE: October 7, 1989
AGE: 36
RESIDENCE: Champaign, IL
PERSONAL BEST: 1:26:46 (Boston, 2017)

A four-time Paralympian, Brian Siemann finally claimed his first medal at the 2024 Paris Games where he won bronze in the 400m and 800m. Siemann also won two bronze medals at the 2023 World Para Championships with his performances in the 400m and the 800m. At this summer’s U.S. Para Championships, he won the 100m, 400m and 800m. Seimann made his Chicago debut in 2023 with an 11th place finish. He was 14th here last year. A quadruplet, Seimann was born prematurely and became paralyzed at just six days old when a mistake by a doctor caused him to lose a third of his blood. In 2016, Siemann and his three siblings became the first quadruplets to finish the New York City Marathon.

BIRTHDATE: September 20, 1977
AGE: 48
RESIDENCE: Netherlands
PERSONAL BEST: 1:26:51 (London, 2025)

A paratriathlon legend, Geert Schipper will make his Bank of America Chicago Marathon debut at the age of 48. Schipper is not showing any signs of slowing down. He won the bronze medal in the paratriathlon at the 2024 Paris Paralympics, eight years after winning the silver medal in Rio. He was the gold medalist in the event at the 2023 World Para Championships, his eighth medal but first victory. Schipper is also a two-time European champion, his most recent victory coming just last year. Injured in a flying accident in 2004, Schipper has proven to be a formidable competitor in the marathon as well. He cracked the top 10 at both Boston and London this year. He won last year’s Paris Marathon as well at the United Airlines New York City Half Marathon. Schipper is the founder of Sportisleven, an organization that organizes sports clinics and adventure trips for people with a disability.

SUSANNAH SCARONI | UNITED STATES

BIRTHDATE: May 16, 1991
AGE: 34
RESIDENCE: Champaign, IL
PERSONAL BEST: 1:27:31 (Duluth, 2022)

Bad luck bit Susannah Scaroni during the 2024 Bank of America Chicago Marathon. She dealt with a flat front tire three miles into the race and battled back to finish 12th. Since then, the 2022 Chicago champion hasn't been off the podium. She won the 2024 TCS New York City Marathon, then started 2025 with a second place finish in Tokyo. In 2025, she won the Boston Marathon presented by Bank of America for the second time and was second in London a week later. In July, she won the 5000m, 1500m and 800m at the U.S. Para Championships in Eugene. She also won the AJC Peachtree Road Race in Atlanta for the fourth consecutive year. At the 2024 Paris Paralympics, Scaroni won a medal in every event in which she competed: Bronze in the 800m,1500m and the marathon, and silver in the 5000m. This will be her 11th Chicago appearance. Scaroni is a registered dietitian.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

PERSONAL BEST: 1:34:16 (Berlin, 2023) World Record

Catherine Debrunner is two for two in Chicago. At her U.S. debut in 2023, she had to outsprint Susannah Scaroni for the win. Last year, she won by nearly three minutes. Her 2025 has been just as good as her 2024 was. She won Tokyo and London and also set a world record in the 100m. Debrunner now owns the world record in the 100m, 200m, 400m, 800m, 1500m and marathon in the T53 classifications.

At the 2024 Paris Paralympics, Debrunner won gold in the 400m, 800m, 1500, 5000m, and the marathon, setting four Paralympic records in the process. She won the marathon by more than four minutes. Debrunner also competed in the 100m and won the silver medal. Since winning her debut in Berlin in 2022, she has won eight of the ten Abbott World Marathon Majors in which she has competed. Debrunner started racing in 2015, qualifying for the World Para Athletics Championships and winning a silver medal in 200m. She then took a break to go to university before returning to the 2019 World Championships and winning gold in the 400m and silver in the 800m. Debrunner won the gold medal in the 400m in the Tokyo Paralympics. She is the 2023 Laureus Sports Person of the Year with a Disability.

JADE HALL | GREAT BRITAIN

BIRTHDATE: January 4, 1996
AGE: 29
RESIDENCE: England
PERSONAL BEST: 1:41:44 (Boston, 2017)

Jade Hall became one of Great Britain's top wheelchair racers at an early age. At just 16 years old, she went to the 2012 Paralympics in London where she competed in the 400m, 800m and 1500m. She won her first major medal with a bronze in the 1500m at the 2014 Commonwealth Games, then returned to the Olympics in 2016. Hall moved to the triathlon in 2017 and claimed a world silver medal and a Commonwealth gold in 2018. She missed the 2020 Tokyo Games due to illness and since then has given birth to two children. She returned to racing in November of last year with a seventh place finish in the TCS New York City Marathon and followed it up with a 6th place finish in London. Hall was born without a right femur. She began racing wheelchairs at the age of 12 and has been coached since then by British Paralympic legend Tanni Grey-Thompson.

As a result of a doping violation, World Athletics announced in 2016 that the 2014 result of Rita Jeptoo has been annulled. In 2015, as a result of a doping violation, the IAAF announced that the 2009-2012 results of Liliya Shobukhova have been annulled. As a result of doping violations, the IAAF also announced that the 2009 result of Lidiya Grigoryeva, the 2010, 2012 and 2013 results of Maria Kononova and the 2013 result of Aleksandra Duliba have been annulled. The official results of the Bank of America Chicago Marathon reflect this change

*Result standings are subject to change in accordance with World Anti-Doping Agency and World Athletics Anti-Doping Rules and Regulations.

As a result of a doping violation, World Athletics announced in 2016 that the 2014 result of Rita Jeptoo has been annulled. In 2015, as a result of a doping violation, World Athletics announced that the 2009-2012 results of Liliya Shobukhova have been annulled. As a result of doping violations, the IAAF also announced that the 2009 result of Lidiya Grigoryeva, the 2009 result of Abderrahim Goumri, the 2010, 2012 and 2013 results of Mariya Kononova and the 2013 result of Aleksandra Duliba have been annulled. The official results of the Bank of America Chicago Marathon reflect this change.

YEAR-BY-YEAR EVENT SUMMARY

October 13, 2024

Ruth Chepngetich's (KEN) solo campaign to rewrite the record books dominated the day as the Bank of America Chicago Marathon solidified its reputation as a record-setting event. Following in the footsteps of the late Kelvin Kiptum, who set the world record in Chicago last fall (2:00:35), Chepngetich relentlessly pushed herself toward the finish, breaking the tape in 2:09:56 (unofficial). On the men's side, John Korir (KEN) made a bold statement by running a personal best and the second fastest time in Chicago's history, 2:02:44. Marcel Hug (SUI) picked up his fifth victory, defending his title in the men's wheelchair race in 1:25:54. Compatriot Catherine Debrunner (SUI) crushed her 2023 course record in the women's wheelchair race to prevail over her competition and defend her title in 1:36:12.

In her signature style of racing, Chepngetich set a blistering pace from the beginning. Only Ethiopia's Sutume Kebede, who hinted at a world record attempt, tried to stay with Chepngetich, a move that saw her run the second half of the race eight minutes slower than the first half. Chepngetich's half marathon split, 1:04:16, is the fifth fastest half marathon time in history and the fastest ever run on U.S. soil. The second half of the race emerged as a duel between Chepngetich and the clock. With a 4:45 25th mile, Chepngetich strode to victory, running nearly two minutes faster than Tigst Assefa's world record (2:11:53). Chepngetich, who is self-coached, now owns the first, fourth and fifth fastest times ever run in Chicago.

Chepngetich's world record is the seventh set in Chicago, making the Bank of America Chicago Marathon home to both the men's and women's current world records.

More than seven and a half minutes after Chepngetich broke the world record, Kebede finished second in 2:17:32 while Irine Cheptai (KEN) finished third in 2:17:51. Susanna Sullivan (USA) was the first American woman across the line, finishing seventh in 2:21:56. Her time makes her the fifth fastest American woman to ever run the Chicago Marathon and the 10th fastest woman in American history.

Unlike the women's race, the men's race quickly formed into a tight pack of 10 athletes that dwindled to seven by 30K, but not for long. Between 30K and 35K, John Korir (KEN) hit the gas pedal, running a pair of 4:25 and 4:22 miles to leave his competition fighting for the last two spots on the podium. Korir captured the victory in Chicago in 2:02:44, making him the sixth fastest man in history.

Huseydin Mohamed Esa (ETH) put some distance between himself and Amos Kipruto (KEN) over the final meters of the race, finishing second overall in 2:04:39. Kipruto finished third in 2:04:50. CJ Albertson was the first American to finish in 2:08:17. Albertson took more than 90 seconds off his personal best to finish seventh overall.

The women's wheelchair race turned into a time-trial effort for Paralympic gold medalist Catherine Debrunner after American Susannah Scaroni endured a flat tire that caused her to drop out of the race. Debrunner flew to the finish solo in 1:36:12, breaking the course record she set last year. Manuela Schär finished second in 1:39:03 and nine-time Bank of America Chicago Marathon champion, Tatyana McFadden, finished third in 1:41:59.

Unlike the women's race, the men's race came down to a sprint finish between Paralympic gold medalist Hug and three-time Chicago winner, Daniel Romanchuk. Hug, known as the "silver bullet," used the slight uphill on Roosevelt Road to gain an advantage over Romanchuk. Prior to the race, Hug said that he was feeling tired after winning the Paralympic Marathon and the Berlin Marathon, but he saved enough energy to become a five-time champion in Chicago. Hug finished first in 1:25:54. Romanchuk was second in 1:25:58 and Tomoki Suzuki (JPN) was third in 1:26:05. Today marked the first time in Chicago Marathon history that three men broke 1:27 in the same race.

David Eik (USA) was the first non-binary participant to cross the finish line in 2:34:01.

October 8, 2023

Broken records were the theme of the day at the 45th running of the Bank of America Chicago Marathon. Headlined by a stunning new men’s marathon world record, the largest finisher field in event history included four course records and the race’s millionth finisher. Kelvin Kiptum (KEN) became the first man to run a sub-2:01 marathon in an officially sanctioned competition, breaking the tape in a world-record time of 2:00:35. Course records fell in every professional division of the race, with Sifan Hassan (NED) setting a new women’s course record in 2:13:44, Marcel Hug (SUI) breaking his own record set last year in the men’s wheelchair race in 1:22:37 and Catherine Debrunner (SUI) writing her name in the race’s history books with a new women’s wheelchair course record of 1:38:44.

Kiptum, who came into the race with the second and third fastest times in history, broke away from the rest of the field just before the 10K mark, taking only his pacers and countryman Daniel Mateiko with him. The pair reached the half marathon behind world-record pace, but Kiptum lived up to his reputation of finishing fast, running the second half of the race in 59:47. As he made the final turn onto Columbus Drive, Kiptum began to sprint as he pumped up the already-roaring crowd. He then broke the tape and smashed Eliud Kipchoge’s the world recod record by 34 seconds. Kiptum’s world record was the sixth set in Chicago, but the first in the men’s race since Khalid Khannouchi in 1999.

2022 Bank of America Chicago Marathon champion Benson Kipruto (KEN) finished second in 2:04:02, while Bashir Abdi (BEL) took third in 2:04:32. Training partners Conner Mantz and Clayton Young became the first two American men to achieve the Paris 2024 qualifying standard by running under 2:08:10. Mantz finished sixth in 2:07:47. Young was seventh in 2:08:00.

The women’s field chased the world record as well with two-time defending champion Ruth Chepngetich (KEN) and Olympic gold medalist Sifan Hassan running through the halfway point in 1:05:42. Hassan, just six weeks removed from winning two medals on the track at the World Championships in Budapest, broke away at 30K. While her pace slowed in the closing miles, the move was too big for Chepngetich to overcome. Hassan crossed the line in 2:13:44, the second fastest women’s marathon time ever, two minutes ahead of Chepngetich.

Seven American women ran under the Paris 2024 standard of 2:26:50. Leading them was Emily Sisson who finished seventh in 2:22:09, after making an early run at her American record of 2:18:29. Olympic bronze medalist Molly Seidel was eighth in a new personal best of 2:23:07 and Sara Vaughn was tenth in 2:23:24. Gabriella Rooker (2:24:35), Dakotah Lindwurm (2:24:40), Emma Bates (2:25:04) and Tristin Van Ord (2:25:58) also all now have the Paris standard. In her first Bank of America Chicago Marathon since 2010, two-time Olympian Des Linden (USA) broke the U.S. masters record with her 17th place finish in 2:27:35.

The men’s wheelchair race was a time-trial effort from Marcel Hug. Hug pushed out to lead from the start and never had competition up front. He shattered his own course record by nearly three minutes, winning his fourth Bank of America Chicago Marathon in 1:22:37. Three-time Chicago champion Daniel Romanchuk (USA) was second in 1:31:34. Jetze Plat (NED) was third in 1:31:40.

The women’s wheelchair competition was a battle from start to finish between Susannah Scaroni (USA) and world record holder Catherine Debrunner. The two traded the lead throughout the race with Debrunner taking over for the last time in the final mile. After the turn onto Columbus Drive, Debrunner was able to pull slightly ahead, winning in a new course record of 1:38:44, two seconds ahead of Scaroni. Nine-time Chicago champion Tatyana McFadden, who previously held the course record, finished third in 1:41:17.

More than 48,500 finished the 45th running of the Bank of Chicago Marathon, the most in race history. That includes the event’s millionth finisher, Allison Naval of Evanston, Ill.

Jake Caswell of New York, NY was the first non-binary participant to cross the finish line with a time of 2:38:05.

October 9, 2022

The 44th running of the Bank of America Chicago Marathon saw record performances and ideal race conditions. The women’s race immediately turned into a world record chase with defending champion Chepngetich flying out of the start with a 4:47 first mile, leaving spectators to wonder just how fast the 2019 World Marathon champion might run. Running stride by stride with her pacer, she maintained sub five-minute mile pace until the seventh mile when she split 5:02. Chepngetich stayed on world record pace through 40K, but lost speed over the final kilometers of the course, coming home in 2:14:18, the second fastest time in history and a personal best by nearly three minutes.

While Chepngetich duelled the clock, the chase pack barreled out of the start on sub-2:18 pace. Emily Sisson, the American half marathon record holder, was among the group of competitors fighting for the final two spots on the podium. Running steady and even, she picked up the pace with four miles to go, separating herself while embarking on a final quest to break the American women’s marathon record. Sisson succeeded, crossing the finish line in 2:18:29 while also collecting the 25K and 30K American records on her way to a runner-up finish. Vivian Kiplagat (KEN), a three-time winner of the Milan Marathon, grabbed the third spot in 2:20:52.

The men’s race kicked off with a group of 11 contenders bunched together. Defending champion Seifu Tura (ETH) looked calm and powerful as he waited for someone to make the first move. Ten athletes passed through the half in 1:02:24, outside of a course record pace (2:03:45), but still within striking distance. Bernard Koech (KEN) pushed the pace between the 30K and 35K mark, forcing the pack to fracture. The pack dwindled to four led by Koech, 2021 Boston Marathon champion Benson Kipruto, Tura, and John Korir (KEN). Korir, a two-time winner of the Los Angeles Marathon, surprised many as he looked primed to destroy his personal best, 2:09:08, by about five minutes.

After making the initial break in the race, Koech was the first to drop off the pack. The race remained a three-man fight for position until Kipruto accelerated at mile 24 and did what he does best: used his signature late-race surge to expand his lead, breaking the tape first in 2:04:24, a personal best. Although Tura failed to match the footspeed of a hard-charging Kipruto, he finished second in 2:04:49, the eighth fastest time in Chicago’s history. Korir, running in his first Abbott World Marathon Major, placed third with a significant personal best, 2:05:01.

Conner Mantz commanded U.S. fan attention as he attempted to break the American marathon debut record. He missed the record by a mere 20 seconds, running 2:08:16, but he etched his name in another record book as he became the seventh fastest man in U.S. history.

In the women’s elite wheelchair competition, Susannah Scaroni, the 5000m world record holder, dropped the hammer in the first mile and took a commanding lead. Like Chepngetich, her race turned into a campaign against the clock. Scaroni dominated to win by four minutes in 1:45:48. She was followed to the line by nine-time Chicago Marathon champion Tatyana McFadden (USA) in 1:49:46. Jenna Fesemyer (USA) came home third in 1:49:54, her fastest time in Chicago.

In the men’s elite wheelchair competition, two-time Paralympic gold medalist and 2016 and 2017 Chicago Marathon champion, Marcel Hug, was unstoppable. Aligned with the theme of the day, Hug’s race turned into a solo attempt to break Chicago’s longest standing course record, 1:26:56, set by Heinz Frei in 2010. Hug delivered with time to spare, setting a new course record, 1:25:20, to secure his third victory in Chicago. Three-time winner Daniel Romanchuk (USA) trailed eight minutes behind for second in 1:33:11, and six-time Paralympian Aaron Pike (USA) finished third in 1:33:13.

As a part of the event’s commitment to inclusivity, participants starting in 2022 had the opportunity to select non-binary as a gender identity at the point of registration. More than 70 participants registered in the non-binary division, with 41 participants completing the marathon on race day. Blank Bruno (USA) finished first in the division with a time of 2:47:12.

October 10, 2021

After 728 days, the Bank of America Chicago Marathon returned to in-person racing with a reduced field of 26,000 participants to allow for social distancing amid the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic. The elite races crowned new champions as Ruth Chepngetich (KEN) ran away with the victory in 2:22:31 and Seifu Tura (ETH) accelerated to the finish in 2:06:12.

The women’s race almost immediately turned into a time trial, with Chepngetich barreling out of the start on a blistering sub-2:12 pace. Chepngetich dropped her pacer eight and a half miles into the race. She decelerated over the final kilometers, dueling warm temperatures and gusting winds over the second half of the race. American Emma Bates ran the best marathon of her career, negative splitting the course to finish second in 2:24:20. American Sara Hall finished third in 2:27:19.

In the men’s race, Ethiopia’s Shifera Tamru took a page from Chepngetich’s playbook and dropped the event’s pacer eight miles in, pushing the pace alone before the chase pack reeled him back in. A steady pack of seven men rolled through 19 miles together, but by Mile 21, the pack reduced to three: Seifu Tura (ETH), Galen Rupp (USA) and Eric Kiptanui (KEN). Tura made a move as the 38K mark approached and maintained his lead through the finish. Though Rupp valiantly tried to catch Tura, he was unable to make up the difference and finished second in 2:06:35. Kiptanui hung on for third in 2:06:51.

In the women’s elite wheelchair competition, Tatyana McFadden (USA) cemented her legacy in Chicago as the most decorated champion in the event’s history, winning her ninth crown while leaving the competition over a minute behind. Yen Hoang (USA) crushed her PR to finish second in 1:50:14, and Jenna Fesemyer (USA) took home third in 1:50:23, her first podium finish in six attempts in Chicago.

Daniel Romanchuk (USA) pulled away from two-time Olympic gold medalist, Marcel Hug (SUI), on Roosevelt Road to race to his third consecutive victory in the men’s elite wheelchair competition in Chicago in 1:29:07. Hug finished second in 1:29:08, and Aaron Pike (USA) finished third in 1:29:28. This year marked Pike’s 12th Chicago Marathon and his first time finishing in the top three. Johnboy Smith (GBR) finished fourth in 1:29:37, and Rafael Botello Jiminez (ESP) finished fifth in 1:38:27. 2021 stands out as the first time four men broke 1:30 in the same race.

October 11, 2020

The Bank of America Chicago Marathon launched the 2020 Virtual Experience after the cancellation of the 2020 event in response to the COVID-19 pandemic. The 2020 Bank of America Chicago Marathon Virtual Experience was a week-long celebration that brought the spirit of the marathon to runners around the world. The free experience encouraged everyone to get involved, from running and sharing their story, to cheering on others and giving back by volunteering in their local community or donating to a cause. More than $10 million was raised by runners through their participation in the Virtual Experience.

October 13, 2019

The 2019 Bank of America Chicago Marathon was a record setting day with 45,932 runners crossing the finish line in Grant Park. Brigid Kosgei (KEN) delivered on pre-race talk of a potential world record, shattering Paula Radcliffe’s world record, 2:15:25, to rewrite history with a jaw-dropping time of 2:14:04. She also swept away Chicago’s long-standing course record, 2:17:18, on its 17th anniversary (October 13, 2002).

Prior to the race, Kosgei announced her ambition to dismantle Radcliffe’s course record, but when she barreled out of the start on 2:11 pace, it seemed clear that the world record – not just the course record – was in play. Almost immediately, the women’s race emerged as an epic duel between Kosgei and the clock. Tucked behind two pacers, she eased into 2:14 pace, splitting the first half in 1:06:59. In spite of the wind picking up over the second half, she maintained her composure – even running a 4:46 mile at mile 24 – to split the second half in 1:07:05.

Ababel Yeshaneh (ETH) and three-time Olympian Gelete Burka (ETH) finished nearly seven minutes behind Kosgei, crossing the line in 2:20:51 and 2:20:55, respectively. The top three women ran the first, 11th and 12th fastest times in Chicago’s history. American Emma Bates ran a three-minute personal best, 2:25:27, to finish fourth. Adding to an already extraordinary race, Bates ran the fourth fastest time on Chicago’s course by an American woman, and she became the 12th fastest woman in U.S. history. Five American women placed inside of the top 10 and four of them broke the 2:30 barrier.

In stark contrast to the women’s race, the men’s race bolted out on 2:04 pace with a tightly bunched pack of nine runners, including past Chicago Marathon champions Mo Farah (GBR), Galen Rupp (USA) and Dickson Chumba (KEN). In an unexpected twist, both Farah and Rupp rolled off the back of the pack around mile eight. They never regained contact and Rupp eventually dropped out at mile 23; Farah hung on to finish eighth in 2:09:58, a disappointing result for the European record holder and the defending Chicago Marathon champion.

2019 Boston Marathon champion Lawrence Cherono (KEN), Bedan Karoki (KEN), Dejene Debela (ETH) and Asefa Mengstu (ETH) ran shoulder to shoulder igniting a dramatic sprint to the finish that produced the seventh, eighth and ninth fastest times ever run on Chicago’s course. In the end, Cherono took the crown by one second, running 2:05:45. Debela finished second in 2:05:46, Mengstu arrived in third in 2:05:48 and Karoki settled for fourth in 2:05:53. The top three runners posted the closest top three finishes in Chicago’s history with just three seconds separating them.

American Jacob Riley entered the finish as the first American in ninth in a personal best, 2:10:36. Jock Merrell (USA), in a spectacular debut, finished a step behind in 10th in 2:10:37. Parker Stinson (USA) and Andrew Bumbalough (USA) topped off an incredible day for U.S. distance running by finishing in 2:10:53 and 2:10:56, respectively. In total, 10 Americans broke 2:12.

In the women’s wheelchair competition, reigning Chicago Marathon champion, Manuela Schär (SUI), beat a competitive field by more than four minutes to finish in 1:41:08. Eight-time Chicago Marathon champion, Tatyana McFadden (USA), battled her University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign teammates to the line to finish second in 1:45:22. Three-time champion Amanda McGrory (USA) finished on the podium in third in 1:45:29 while Susannah Scaroni (USA) finished in an identical time for fourth.

The men’s competition saw an invincible Daniel Romanchuk (USA), the reigning champion of the New York, Boston and London marathons, retain his Chicago title with time to spare. In spite of an early pack of 22 men at the 15K mark, Romanchuk sped up around the half and, taking a page from Kosgei’s playbook, battled the clock to the finish line. David Weir (GBR) and 2013 Chicago Marathon champion Ernst Van Dyk (RSA) fought to the finish with Weir edging Van Dyk at the line, 1:33:31 to 1:33:32, respectively.

October 7, 2018

An event-record 44,610 runners crossed the finish line in Chicago’s “front yard,” Grant Park. Beneath cloudy skies and spotty rain – the first time since 2006 – the Bank of America Chicago Marathon welcomed a diverse field of runners from more than 100 countries, all 50 states and all 50 Chicago Wards. With the reinstatement of pacers and the assembly of a world-class field, the event treated spectators to a variety of thrilling finishes.

In an elite competition stacked with 11 men all with sub 2:08 personal bests and five women who have run 2:20 or faster, the stage was set for a competitive footrace from start to the finish. The men’s race saw Sir Mo Farah (GBR) dismantle the European record and run the eighth fastest time in Chicago Marathon history, 2:05:11. 2018 Dubai Marathon champion and course record holder, Mosinet Geremew (ETH), hung on for second in 2:05:24 and Suguru Osako (JPN) smashed the Japanese national record to land on the podium in third in 2:05:50.

Repeating a similar theme from the past three years, the top contenders in the women’s field hit the pavement hard from the start and battled out front for as long as they could. 2017 runner up, Brigid Kosgei (KEN), crushed the field when she accelerated before the 20-mile mark and embarked on a solo campaign against the clock to collect her first Abbott World Marathon Majors victory and a new personal best, 2:18:35. Kosgei ran the third fastest time in Chicago Marathon history. 2018 Dubai Marathon champion, Roza Dereje (ETH), ran her second fastest career time to finish second in 2:21:18 and compatriot Shure Demise (ETH) rounded out the top three in 2:22:15.

In the women’s wheelchair competition, current world record holder and reigning Tokyo and Berlin Marathon champion, Manuela Schär (SUI), made a bold statement, beating her nearest competitor by almost two minutes. That day marked Schär’s sixth start in Chicago, and after finishing second from 2013-2016 and third in 2017, she finally captured the victory, stopping the clock in 1:41:38. 2018 London Marathon champion Madison de Rozario (AUS) finished strong in second in 1:43:16, and Susannah Scaroni (USA) found herself back in the top three for the first time since 2012, finishing third in 1:44:48. For the first time in eight years, Tatyana McFadden (USA) did not win; she finished seventh in 1:56:35.

The men’s competition welcomed a new champion, and one of its youngest, 20-year-old Daniel Romanchuk (USA) from the famed University of Illinois Wheelchair Racing Team. Romanchuk outsprinted AbbottWMM Series X and Series XI wheelchair champion, Marcel Hug (SUI) in a duel to the finish line, winning 1:31:34 to the “Silver Bullet’s” 1:31:35. Great Britain’s David Weir finished third in 1:31:43.

October 8, 2017

The race celebrated 40 years of running and history with runners from more than 100 countries and all 50 states.

In an elite competition loaded with four world record holders and seven men with sub 2:08 personal bests and six women who had run 2:23 or faster, the stage was set for another year of fantastic finishes. The men’s race saw the first American champion crowned since 2002 as three-time Olympian Galen Rupp surged with three miles to go, crushing the field behind him to capture his first Abbott World Marathon Majors (AbbottWMM) victory in 2:09:20. Defending champion and 2012 Olympic Marathon silver medalist Abel Kirui (KEN) hung on to finish second in 2:09:48 and Bernard Kipyego (KEN) arrived a distant third in 2:10:23.

In stark contrast to the men’s race, three-time Olympic gold medalist Tirunesh Dibaba (ETH) led a pack of five women through the first half on course record pace and then dropped the hammer immediately after the 13.1 mile mark in an attempt to shake her competitors. Dibaba turned in the second fastest time in Chicago Marathon history, 2:18:31, and the third fastest time in the world that year. Relative newcomer to the AbbottWMM Brigid Kosgei (KEN) subtracted four minutes from her previous best to finish second in 2:20:22, and American Jordan Hasay became the second fastest American woman in history – and the fastest American woman ever to run Chicago – when she grabbed the final spot on the podium in 2:20:57.

In the women’s wheelchair competition, Tatyana McFadden (USA) defended her title in a photo finish, taking home her seventh straight victory and her eighth win at the Bank of America Chicago Marathon, while setting a course record in 1:39:15. Three-time Chicago Marathon champion Amanda McGrory (USA) finished with an identical time for second, and four-time runner up Manuela Shär (SUI) finished third in 1:39:17. For the first time in Chicago Marathon history, the top four women finished faster than the course record.

The men’s competition marked a striking departure from the sprint finishes typically seen in Chicago. Defending champion and AbbottWMM Series X winner, Marcel Hug (SUI), clocked the fastest winning time since 2011, 1:29:23. Hug made the turn from Roosevelt Road to Columbus Drive unchallenged by the chase pack. Five-time Chicago Marathon champion Kurt Fearnley (AUS) repeated as the runner up in 1:30:24 and Jordi Madera Jimenez (ESP) trailed him by one second for third, 1:30:25.

October 9, 2016

Ideal weather conditions greeted runners as thousands of volunteers and more than 1.7 million spectators descended on the city to usher in the 39th annual Bank of America Chicago Marathon. For the second consecutive year, race organizers did not use pacesetters, resulting in championship style racing and head-to-head competition. The men’s race saw a new champion crowned as 2012 Olympic marathon silver medalist Abel Kirui (KEN) held off defending champion Dickson Chumba (KEN) down the homestretch, 2:11:23 to 2:11:26, respectively. Gideon Kipketer (KEN) arrived a distant third in 2:12:20. The men’s race entertained fans with fartlek-style pace surges and multiple leadership changes.

In stark contrast to the men’s race, Florence Kiplagat (KEN) led a pack of women aggressively through the first 19 miles on sub 2:22 pace and then threw down a 5:10 mile to break away from the pack and defend her title in 2:21:32. Double IAAF World Championships Marathon winner Edna Kiplagat (KEN) was the runner up in 2:23:28, and Valentine Kipketer (KEN) claimed the final spot on the podium in 2:23:41.

In the women’s wheelchair competition, Tatyana McFadden (USA) defended her title, beating Switzerland’s Manuela Schär by one second in 1:42:28, taking home her sixth straight victory and her seventh win at the Chicago Marathon, making her the most decorated champion in race history. The men’s competition featured another thrilling finish with the top nine men finishing within 16 seconds of each other. Abbott World Marathon Majors Series X leader Marcel Hug (SUI) edged out Kurt Fearnley (AUS) in a photo finish in 1:32:57, earning his first career Chicago Marathon victory. 2014 champion Joshua George (USA) was a close third in 1:32:59

The 2015 Bank of America Chicago Marathon was another year for the record books: Deena Kastor broke the American Master’s record and Tatyana McFadden broke her own course record in the professional wheelchair competition.

For the first time in more than two decades, pacesetters were not at the helm of the race, and in a strategic competition up front, the men’s race saw a Kenyan sweep with Dickson Chumba running away from the field in 2:09:25, Sammy Kitwara finishing as the runner-up for the second time in 2:09:50 and newcomer to the Abbott World Marathon Majors, Sammy Ndungu, sprinting down the homestretch for third in 2:10:06. American Luke Puskedra (USA) kicked it in for a fifth-place finish in 2:10:24, becoming just the sixth American over the last two decades to score a top five finish in Chicago.

Florence Kiplagat (KEN), the reigning half marathon world record holder, stayed patient in an aggressive race that saw a strong pack of women bolt from the start on 2:19 pace. Kiplagat finally made her move 40K into the race, breaking the tape first in 2:23:33. Yebrgual Melese (ETH) held on for second in 2:23:43, and Birhane Dibaba (ETH) secured a podium finish in 2:24:24.

On the tenth anniversary of her victory in Chicago, Deena Kastor (USA) finished in seventh place in 2:27:47, breaking the American Master's Record, 2:28:40, set by Colleen De Reuk at the 2005 Chicago Marathon. Kastor now owns the second (2:21:25), fourth (2:26:53) and seventh fastest times run by an American woman on the Chicago Marathon course.

In the women's wheelchair competition, Tatyana McFadden (USA) handily defended her title in a course record time, 1:41:10, taking home her fifth straight victory and her sixth win at the Bank of America Chicago Marathon since her 2009 debut. The men's competition featured another thrilling finish with the top 11 men finishing within 13 seconds of each other. Kurt Fearnely (AUS) beat his competitors to the line in 1:30:46, earning his fifth career Chicago Marathon victory. In a photo finish for second place, Marcel Hug (SUI) held off 2014 champion Joshua George (USA), both clocking 1:30:48.

October 12, 2014

The 2014 Bank of America Chicago Marathon witnessed two new records: 40,659 runners crossed the finish line, and more than 10,000 participants raised $17.3 million for charity.

The men's race opened with a world record chase as a pack of twelve stormed through the first mile in 4:34. The pace simmered as the wind picked up, but the group remained intact through the half. Two pacers led the charge with a 1:02:11 split. In the later stages of the race, pre-race favorites Eliud Kipchoge and Kenenisa Bekele followed the leaders in what grew into a tactical race. Kipchoge, Sammy Kitwara and Dickson Chumba stayed together until Kipchoge made his final move at mile 25. With his victory clearly sealed, Kipchoge strode down Columbus Drive with a smile, stealing the show in 2:04:11. Kitwara and Chumba dueled for second, with Kitwara out-striding Chumba down the homestretch, 2:04:28 to 2:04:32.

American Amy Hastings led the women's race from the gun, hitting the 5K in 17:12 and the 10K in 34:22 with defending champion Rita Jeptoo a few steps behind. Things shifted over the next 5K with Florence Kiplagat and Jeptoo taking over the lead. The pace remained relatively pedestrian until defending champion Rita Jeptoo took the reins and dropped a 16:37 5K between 35K and 40K. Jeptoo easily defended her title, breaking the tape in 2:24:35. Mare Dibaba held on for second in 2:25:37, and half-marathon world record holder, Kiplagat, secured a podium finish in 2:25:57.

The men's wheelchair competition featured an historic finish with the top 11 men finishing within 11 seconds of each other. Josh George edged Kurt Fearnley at the line by one second, 1:32:12 to 1:32:13. In the women's race, Tatyana McFadden handily defended her title, taking home her fourth straight victory, and her fifth in the last six years. In 2013, McFadden became the first male or female athlete to win four World Marathon Majors in one year (she won Boston, London, Chicago and New York).

As a result of a doping violation, World Athletics announced in 2016 that the 2014 result of Rita Jeptoo has been annulled. The official results of the Bank of America Chicago Marathon reflect this change.*

October 13, 2013

The 2013 Bank of America Chicago Marathon concluded with course records, more than 39,000 finishers, more than $15 million in charitable fundraising and a record $253 million economic impact.

Kenyan athletes dominated the men's and women's races with historic performances, leading the way for the event record 39,122 runners who crossed the sun-splashed finish line in Grant Park under ideal weather conditions.

Kenya's Dennis Kimetto smashed the men's course record with a 2:03:45 performance, taking 53 seconds off the previous mark set in 2012. The men's race was a world record chase from the start with a 29:20 opening 10K. The pack was whittled down to four when Kimetto and fellow Kenyans Emmanuel Mutai, Sammy Kitwara and Micah Kogo split 14:33 from 30K to 35K. Heading up the Roosevelt Road overpass, it was still a two-way battle between Kimetto and Mutai, with Kimetto grinding away for a seven-second advantage over Mutai at the finish line. Both athletes registered personal best performances, becoming the fourth and fifth fastest marathon performers of all-time. It was also the first time in history that two athletes broke 2:04 in the same race (on a record-eligible course). Michigan native Dathan Ritzenhein was the first American finisher, placing fifth in 2:09:45.

In the women's competition, Kenya's Rita Jeptoo cracked the 2:20 barrier with a winning time of 2:19:57, the fastest women's marathon time in the world in 2013. The lead pack of eight women traveled through the half in a relatively relaxed 1:11:15, but things started to heat up by 25K, when Kenyans Rita Jeptoo and Jemima Sumgong began to separate themselves from the field, leaving defending champion Atsede Baysa of Ethiopia in their wake. Jeptoo's 15:57 split from 35K to 40K sealed her victory and put her in position to break the 2:20 barrier for the first time in her career. Her 2:19:57 ranks as the fifth fastest performance in Chicago Marathon history and she became the first Kenyan woman to break the finish tape on Columbus Drive since Catherine Ndereba in 2001. Clara Santucci, of Dilliner, Pa., was the top American, finishing ninth in 2:31:39.

In the elite wheelchair competition, Tatyana McFadden of the United States won her third straight Chicago Marathon in a course record time of 1:42:35, taking down the previous mark set in 1992. South Africa's Ernst Van Dyk won a sprint finish in the men's wheelchair race to claim his first Chicago title.

October 7, 2012

The 35th anniversary Bank of America Chicago Marathon proved to be one for the record books. It started with registration selling out in a record six days and ended with an all-time high 37,475 runners crossing the finish line in Grant Park. The event also established new benchmarks in charitable fundraising ($15.3 million) and economic impact ($243 million).

After minor improvements on the course record two out of the last three years, Ethiopia's Tsegaye Kebede took advantage of cool weather (the day's high reached 51 degrees) and a stacked elite field to slash 59 seconds from the course mark, becoming the first to break 2:05 in Chicago with his 2:04:38 performance. He led two others under the previous record; Feyisa Lilesa was second in 2:04:52 and Tilahun Regassa third in 2:05:27, making it an Ethiopian sweep of the podium. Kebede also became Chicago's first male champion from Ethiopia. The top American was Oregon's Dathan Ritzenhein in ninth. His 2:07:47 was a personal best by more than two minutes and made him the third fastest American marathoner of all-time.

Ethiopia's Atsede Baysa clinched the victory after a sprint finish with Kenya's Rita Jeptoo. In the end, Baysa broke the tape a stride ahead, with both athletes recording personal bests, 2:22:03 and 2:22:04, respectively. The dramatic finish tied for the narrowest margin of victory in the history of the women's competition. Kenya's Lucy Kabuu was third (2:22:41). Running her debut marathon, Renee Baillie of the U.S. was eighth in 2:27:17, registering the fifth fastest U.S. debut of all-time.

In the wheelchair division, Tatyana McFadden of the U.S. won her second consecutive title and third in the last four years. In the men's race, Canadian Paralympian Josh Cassidy moved up from fourth the previous year to the top spot on the podium.

As a result of a doping violation, World Athletics announced in 2015 that the 2009-2012 results of Liliya Shobukhova have been annulled. The official results of the Bank of America Chicago Marathon reflect this change.*

October 9, 2011

The Bank of America Chicago Marathon reached its registration capacity of 45,000 in record time (31 days), which led to the second-largest field in event history (35,755) crossing the finish line in Grant Park. Runners battled another unseasonably warm October day with temperatures peaking at 80 degrees, albeit with low humidity and light winds.

The elite athletes were undaunted by the conditions, as Kenya's Moses Mosop surged to a new men's course record of 2:05:37, breaking Sammy Wanjiru's two-year-old mark. Running just his second marathon, Mosop showed great poise as he withstood a dramatic surge by countryman Wesley Korir between 25 and 30K, before answering with a surge of his own that sprung him to victory. Korir hung on for second in 2:06:15, and Bernard Kipyego third place finish in 2:06:29 made it a Kenyan sweep. America's Ryan Hall placed fifth in 2:08:04, becoming the second fastest American in Chicago history behind a pair of Khalid Khannouchi performances.

Liliya Shobukhova of Russia became the first runner to win three straight Chicago titles, and did so with the second fastest time in event history (2:18:20). Shobukhova had company in Ethiopia's Ejegayehu Dibaba (running her debut marathon) and Japan's Kayoko Fukushi for the first half, before powering away to a nearly four-minute margin of victory. Dibaba's runner-up time of 2:22:09 was the world's second-fastest debut, while Fukushi took third in 2:24:38.

Australia's Kurt Fearnley won a tight wheelchair race with just six seconds separating the top four finishers. His time of 1:29:18 was five seconds faster than the ageless Heinz Frei of Switzerland, who edged Joshua George of the U.S. for second. In the women's race, Tatyana McFadden boldly pulled away after 10 miles and the gamble paid off, as she was dominant in a nearly two-minute victory over Christine Dawes of Australia. McFadden's time of 1:45:03 was the second-fastest in event history.

With 10,000 charity runners representing more than 160 nonprofit organizations, the Chicago Marathon Charity Program netted an event record $13.4 million in fundraising, while the event's overall impact on the city also grew to $219 million.

October 10, 2010

A record number of race finishers (36,088) contributed to a major Bank of America Chicago Marathon milestone—more than a half million finishers since the event's founding in 1977.

Leading the way for the record field of participants were a pair of repeat champions as both Sammy Wanjiru of Kenya and Liliya Shobukhova of Russia defended their titles. In a dazzling rematch of the 2008 Olympic gold and bronze medalists, Wanjiru and Ethiopia's Tsegaye Kebede pushed each other to the limit, with Wanjiru weathering a series of attacks in the final miles before finally prevailing on the incline up Roosevelt Road. Several of the running industry's top commentators remarked that the battle between the two great champions was the finest they had ever witnessed.

Shobukhova's victory, on the other hand, was a runaway by more than three minutes over Ethiopia's Astede Baysa, who held a half-minute lead at 30K. But the patient and measured Russian proved too much in the race's final 12K, as she posted a Russian national record of 2:20:25 for the win. Desiree Davila become the fourth fastest American with her fourth-place finish in 2:26:20, ranking behind only Deena Kastor, Joan Benoit Samuelson and Kara Goucher on the all-time list.

In the men's wheelchair division, a new course record was set by 52-year-old Heinz Frei of Switzerland who blitzed the course in 1:26:56. In the women's wheelchair division, Amanda McGrory of downstate Savoy, IL returned to the winner's circle with a two-second victory over Japan's Wakako Tsuchida.

The Chicago Marathon continued its growth in charitable and economic impact with a record 10,000 charity runners and $12 million raised for local, national and global causes. With all the fanfare surrounding "Marathon Weekend" in Chicago, the city benefitted from $170 million in economic impact.

October 11, 2009

The 2009 race set a number of new benchmarks, among them a record number of finishers (33,703), a record number of charity runners (8,500) and dollars raised (more than $10 million), a greater economic impact ($150 million), a record number of spectators (1.7 million) and a new men's course record (2:05:41).

In a welcome departure from the past two years, race day temperatures started in the low 30s, and the stage was set for a world record attempt by Olympic Marathon gold medalist Sammy Wanjiru of Kenya. With the help of pacemakers, 22-year-old Wanjiru challenged Haile Gebrselassie's 2:03:59 mark with a blistering first half run in 1:02:01. Fellow Kenyans Vincent Kipruto and Charles Munyeki went along for the ride, but the pace slowed during the second half and the world record was no longer in sight. Wanjiru still managed to carve a second off Khalid Khannouchi's course record and take home an additional $100,000 for his efforts. Morocco's Abderrahim Goumri ran a tactical race for second in 2:06:04, while Kipruto held on for third in 2:06:08.

In the women's race, Russia's Liliya Shobukhova won her first major marathon in only her second attempt at the distance. After a tactical first half, Ethiopia's Teyba Erkesso burst to the lead, trimming down the lead back to the main contenders. Shobukhova displayed unparalleled speed over the final two miles (run at sub five-minute pace), finishing in 2:25:56, with Germany's Irina Mikiitenko second in 2:26:31 and 2008 Chicago champion Lidiya Grigoryeva of Russia third in 2:26:47.

Australia's Kurt Fearnley won the men's wheelchair race for the third straight year (1:29:09), and the women's race produced one of the most thrilling finishes in race history, with the top five women all finishing within three seconds. First-time marathoner Tatyana McFadden got the win in 1:50:47.

In the debut of the Nike Northside/Southside Challenge, a high school invitational held on the final 2.6 miles of the Marathon course, Lincoln Way Central runner Kyle Counter beat a field of 71 competitors to finish 52 seconds ahead of second place in 13:35. The girl's champion from Luther North, Stephanie Simpson, won in 16:01, 19 seconds ahead of second place. Fifty-seven high school girls competed in the race.

October 12, 2008

With Bank of America at the helm as the new title sponsor and Nike as the new footwear and apparel sponsor, the 2008 race attracted 45,000 participants and closed registration in less than three months. With another year of hot temperatures predicted on race day, almost 33,000 runners started and 31,344 finished. 2008 witnessed several new changes, including a separate start for the men’s and women’s elite field (starting five minutes before the Open field), an increase in Aid Stations from 15 to 20, and the first-ever handcycle division as the event welcomed the Achilles Freedom Team of Wounded Veterans.

With a star-studded field, the men’s elite race went out in a blistering pace, at one point threatening to take down Khalid Khannouchi’s course record. But the early pace wilted most of the field by 25K, leaving Kenyans Evans Cheruiyot and David Mandago to battle it out in a two-man race. After another six miles spent running shoulder to shoulder, Cheruiyot, in just his second marathon, pulled away for the victory in 2:06:25, the eighth fastest time in event history.

The women’s race went out much more conservatively, with the lead pack moving at a pedestrian pace nearly 15 minutes off the course record. Shortly after the halfway point, Russians Lidiya Grigoryeva and Alevtina Biktimirova broke away from the pack. They matched each other’s strides until mile 21, when Grigoryeva emerged as the clear victor (2:27:17). The wheelchair races witnessed Australian Kurt Fearnley and American Amanda McGrory repeat as champions.

October 7, 2007

The 30th anniversary race was historic in many regards. Both the men’s victory by Kenya’s Patrick Ivuti and women’s repeat championship by Ethiopia’s Berhane Adere rank among the most exciting finishes in event history. After a neck-and-neck sprint down Columbus Drive between Ivuti and Moroccan Jaouad Gharib, Ivuti made a final surge, pushing his chest forward to break the tape only hundredths of a second before his opponent. Moments later, Adere surprised Romanian Adriana Pirtea in the final stretch by strategically positioning herself out of Pirtea’s peripheral vision and sprinting wide of the finish tape to steal the title. Thinking she was in the final stretch of certain victory, Pirtea was in the midst of pumping her arms to the crowd when she spotted Adere much too late to match her stride. In the wheelchair race, Australia’s Kurt Fearnley set a new course record with his speedy 1:28:06, just one second ahead of 2005 champion Krige Schabort, and Amanda McGrory took the women’s title.

But the real story of the day was the historic heat. Temperatures soared into the high 80s and combined with high humidity, which forced organizers to halt the race for the first time in its history. Approximately three and a half hours after the official start, runners were rerouted to Grant Park and instructed to stop running as the heat was too intense to ensure their safety. As a result, while the race welcomed its largest field to the start line (36,867), only 25,534 were able to officially finish the race.

On October 1, only six days before the race, Bank of America completed its acquisition of LaSalle Bank and thereby its future involvement with the historic Marathon. The 30th anniversary closed a storied chapter in the race’s history, ending its 14-year run as The LaSalle Bank Chicago Marathon, a time during which it experienced tremendous growth in many areas including popularity among runners, civic and community support and international recognition.

October 22, 2006

Kenya’s Robert Kipkoech Cheruiyot outsprinted countryman Daniel Njenga to win an exciting race which presented weather challenges of low temperatures, gusty winds and chilling rain. The race saw Cheruiyot, Njenga, fellow Kenyans Jimmy Muindi and Robert Cheboror and American Abdi Abdirahman separate themselves from the pack near mile 19. With a mile to go, it was just Cheruiyot and Njenga racing for the title. After setting his eyes on the prize following a 2004 runner-up finish and 2005 third-place finish, Njenga challenged Cheruiyot in the final sprint on Columbus Drive but finished in second place once again. On his approach to the finish line, Cheruiyot slipped and fell just before breaking the tape. On official review, the Kenyan’s torso had crossed the plane securing his second consecutive win in a World Marathon Major race.

After leading the women’s race at a blazing world record pace in the first half, returning runner-up Constantina Tomescu-Dita of Romania faltered in the second half. Ethiopia’s Berhane Adere and Russia’s Galina Bogomolova closed the gap by Mile 22. Adere’s long strides against Bogomolova’s quicker steps proved stronger as she edged ahead and took the win. Both Adere and Bogomolova set new national records for Ethiopia and Russia, respectively, as did third and fourth place finishers Benita Johnson of Australia and Madia Perez of Mexico.

October 9, 2005

The 2005 Chicago Marathon was a world-class racing event as young champion Felix Limo defeated a deep men’s field, and U.S. record holder Deena Kastor claimed victory in a thrilling race against returning 2004 champion Constantina Tomescu-Dita.

It was a tactical battle from the start as the men’s field settled in for a cautious 15:35 split in the first 5K. The lead pack was spread 11 athletes-wide across Ashland Avenue about 7.5 miles from the finish. Defending champion Evans Rutto surged ahead at mile 20, but painful blisters dashed his chances to earn a third consecutive victory. Limo accelerated at 40K to take the lead and sprinted to an impressive victory in 2:07:02. Four more Kenyans—Ben Maiyo, Daniel Njenga, Evans Rutto and Patrick Ivuti—all finished within 44 seconds of Limo to set a Chicago record for the fastest top five finishers.

In the women’s race, Kastor snatched the lead from Tomescu-Dita shortly after the first 5K and led the defending champion at sub-2:20 pace through the remaining 23 miles. Tomescu-Dita kept a short leash on Kastor through 25K before the American shifted gears and pushed to a 40-second lead with seven miles remaining. But Tomescu-Dita steadily edged her way back into the race before ultimately running out of real estate, as Kastor hung tough for a five second victory over the Romanian record-holder. The win was Kastor’s first in a big-city marathon, and the third fastest time ever run by an American. Tomescu-Dita improved her personal best by one minute and 20 seconds, and reset her national record by the same margin.

October 10, 2004

Awash in bright sunshine, Evans Rutto of Kenya and Constantina Tomescu-Dita of Romania charged to victory in the Chicago Marathon’s 27th running. Their world-class runs made the city proud on a day when 33,125 participants from 121 countries crossed the finish line on Columbus Drive.

Rutto, who had not come just to defend his 2003 title but to break the world record, got the victory in a stellar 2:06:16, but was left to wonder what could have been if the wind had not kicked up in the final miles. While he had set his sights on Paul Tergat’s time of 2:04:55 set in Berlin the previous fall, the wind was the wild card on a day he had been dealt an otherwise perfect hand. Still, Rutto notched the fourth-fastest winning time in Chicago history, and the second fastest marathon in 2004. The victory kept the 26-year-old undefeated over the marathon distance.

Tomescu-Dita deployed her usual tactic of going out hard and hanging on, which had not yet resulted in victory at a major marathon. But on this day, the Romanian ruled the road. Looking back five times from the corner of Michigan Avenue and Roosevelt Road to the finish on Columbus Drive, she was overcome with emotion as she realized she would win her first major marathon title in a time of 2:23:45, just 10 seconds off her personal best.

October 12, 2003

The 2003 Chicago Marathon was up for grabs with four-time champion Khalid Khannouchi out of the field due to injury. Kenyan Evans Rutto picked a good year to take on his first 26.2-miler in Chicago. In a seemingly effortless performance, Rutto not only took home the victory, but he set the debut marathon record in 2:05:50. Rutto’s time marked the sixth fastest marathon ever run, only eight seconds behind Khalid Khannouchi’s course record. The women’s victory went to veteran runner Svetlana Zakharova of Russia. Zakharova trailed behind Constantina Tomescu-Dita until mile 25, where she surged ahead to win in 2:23:07.

October 13, 2002

The 25th anniversary of the Chicago Marathon was simply unforgettable—a beautiful day with a record number of finishers, nearly a million spectators, a new women’s world record and the crowning of Chicago’s first four-time male winner.

Great Britain’s Paula Radcliffe capped off her phenomenal year by shattering the world record with a stunning 2:17:18 performance. Against a topnotch field, including defending champion and former world record holder Catherine Ndereba of Kenya, Radcliffe took control of the race for good after the halfway mark when she clocked mile splits of 5:08, 5:11 and 5:06 from miles 17 thorough 19. She ran alone and stayed strong during the final stretch up Lake Shore Drive to improve the world record by an amazing 89 seconds, which Ndereba set a year earlier.

After a one-year absence, Khalid Khannouchi returned to win his fourth Chicago title. Competing in the most impressive elite field in the event’s 25-year history, Khannouchi went head-to-head with Paul Tergat, defending champion Ben Kimondiu, and two-time London champion Abdelkader El Mouaziz. But it was Toshinari Takaoka who would provide Khannouchi with his biggest challenge as the Japanese 10,000-meter champion broke away from the pack at mile 19 to take a 21-second lead at mile 23. In response, Khannouchi kicked it into higher gear, catching Takaoka by mile 25 near McCormick Place. After taking the lead, Khannouchi kept his furious pace over the last mile and a half to win in 2:05:56, becoming the first marathoner to record three sub-2:06 performances.

October 7, 2001

The 2001 Chicago Marathon was another historic race—a record number of runners, nearly a million spectators, a pacer surprising all by winning and a new women’s world record. In 2001, registration reached a record 37,500 participants.

Catherine Ndereba ran the race of her life, producing a new women’s world record with a stunning time of 2:18:47. After a slow start and an early challenge by friend and fellow Kenyan, Lornah Kiplagat, she ran alone most of the second half. Ndereba put the record well within her sights when she ran miles 23 and 24 in 5:12 and 5:09, respectively. Her performance, the first ever sub-2:19 run by a woman, lowered the mark by 59 seconds, set only a week earlier in Berlin.

In one of the most stunning upsets in Chicago Marathon history, Kenya’s Ben Kimondiu—a pacesetter hired to push a fast pace for the first half—decided to stay in the race and won in impressive fashion, out-kicking heavily favored Paul Tergat of Kenya in 2:08:52. It was the first and only time in Chicago’s history that a pacer led from start to finish. Rod DeHaven was the fastest American, placing sixth with a personal best 2:11:40.

October 22, 2000

Khalid Khannouchi, in another magnificence display of marathon running, won his third Chicago Marathon in 2:07:01. Khannouchi set the American record after being disappointed at not being able to represent the U.S. in the Sydney Olympics earlier in the year.

In nearly ideal conditions, Khannouchi beat a strong field including Moses Tanui and three other Kenyans: Fred Kiprop, Josephat Kiprono and Peter Githuka. Kenyans finished in the next five places, Kiprono taking runner-up honors 28 seconds behind Khannouchi. Then it was Tanui, Githuka, Kiprop and William Kiplagat. It was also a good day for the American men as eight placed in the top 20, with notable performances by Eric Mack (2:12:42 in his debut) and Josh Cox (2:13:55).

Catherine Ndereba joined Ingrid Kristiansen (1986) as the only women to win Boston and Chicago in the same year. Ndereba’s winning time (2:21:33) was the fastest run in 2000. Ndereba shadowed Kenyan compatriot Lornah Kiplagat after closing down an early gap of 15 seconds, finally taking the lead in the 23rd mile. Kiplagat hung on for a personal best 2:22:36. Americans Libbie Hickman, Christine Junkermann and Kristy Johnston ran together for much of the race before Hickman prevailed as the first American in 2:32:09.

A record 27,956 finishers made this race the fourth-largest marathon in history.

October 24, 1999

Hollywood couldn’t have scripted it better: a world record for the men, a photo finish for the women and a monster field. Chicago had it all on this chilly (mid 30s at the start) yet sunny October morning. Kenya’s Moses Tanui had a 33-second lead on the pack at Mile 21 when Khalid Khannouchi of Morocco took over the second position. From that point on, it was a two-man race with Khannouchi effectively gaining on the leader. At 40K, as Tanui grabbed his bottle from the elite fluid table, Khannouchi flew by. From that point on, he was chasing only the record book. The men’s leaders had already been on world record pace most of the race, but Khannouchi switched into another gear, finishing in an incredible 2:05:42, breaking Ronaldo da Costa’s world record by 23 seconds, and becoming the first man to run under 2:06. Tanui finished in 2:06:16, still good for the third fastest marathon ever run. Khannouchi collected $65,000 for the win, a $100,000 world record bonus and a new Volkswagen Beetle. American David Morris, an Alaskan native who had been training and racing in Japan, put forth an impressive run of 2:09:32. He finished fourth behind defending champ Ondoro Osoro of Kenya (2:08:00).

Defending champion Joyce Chepchumba of Kenya headlined the women’s race. Stunned when she tripped near mile 10 (skinning her left knee, hip and both elbows), she regained her composure and slowly reeled the lead pack back in. In the last several miles the race boiled down to her and fellow Kenyan Margaret Okayo. They arrived at the final stretch on Columbus Drive side by side, with Chepchumba’s track speed making the difference as she won by less than one step (2:25:59 to 2:26:00), earning $80,000 plus a $15,000 time bonus. In all, $715,200 of prize money was awarded—the largest payout in event history.

In all, 29,256 runners registered, with 25,145 starters and 24,654 finishers. Participants representing all 50 states, plus 2,241 international runners from a record 80 countries, were cheered on by an estimated 820,000 spectators.

October 11, 1998

Records were the order of the day once again at the 21st Chicago Marathon with new high marks set for runners (20,063 registrants) and spectators (700,000) under beautiful weather conditions (50s and calm). For only the first time in marathon history, four men with personal bests under 2:08:00 were at the start line: defending champ Khalid Khannouchi of Morocco, Kenyans Moses Tanui and Elijah Lagat and South Africa’s Gert Thys. Experience proved fruitless as a marathon rookie stunned the field.

Newcomer Ondoro Osoro of Kenya emerged victorious from the pack, running one of the fastest marathons in history. Khannouchi had a comfortable lead after a surge at mile 21, but ligament damage in his left foot (suffered just two weeks earlier), compounded by a cramping calf, spelled his doom as Osoro surged past him with less than a mile to go, winning the race in 2:06:54. Khannouchi held on for second (2:07:19), with Thys

(2:07:45) and Homewood, IL-based Kenyan Joseph Kahugu (2:07:59) close behind. Osoro set course, world debut, North American and Kenyan national records with the then third-fastest performance of all-time. He earned $105,000 ($55,000 for first and a $50,000 time bonus).

In the women's race, South Africans Colleen De Reuck and Elana Meyer pushed the pace early with Joan Benoit Samuelson's course record of 2:21:21 in sight. The quick pace proved too much, however, as patient Kenyan Joyce Chepchumba stormed past Meyer at mile 19, then De Reuck at mile 22 to win in an impressive 2:23:57, the year's fourth fastest women's time and 15th fastest ever. Chepchumba pocketed $85,000 ($55,000 for the win and a $30,000 time bonus). Defending champ Marian Sutton of Great Britain never found her groove, finishing 10th in 2:35:41.

Race organizers debuted the ChampionChip timing system to ensure exact timing for every runner at the start, half marathon and finish. The 17,731 starters (now an exact count thanks to the Chip) and 17,204 finishers (a 97 percent completion rate), including 40 wheelchair finishers, were all new Chicago records.

October 19, 1997

The 20th anniversary LaSalle Bank Chicago Marathon was truly a record-breaking event. Perfect weather conditions and an unprecedented 650,000 spectators welcomed a record 16,372 registrants, 14,322 of whom finished the race. In addition, the 1997 race showed a new diversity, with all 50 states and 47 countries represented. The event awarded $300,000 in prize money and an additional $197,000 in time bonuses.

Khalid Khannouchi, a Moroccan based in Brooklyn, NY, arrived in Chicago for his marathon debut. Not only did his 2:07:10 give him the victory, but he also set course, debut and North American records while running the fourth-fastest marathon time ever. Khannouchi took home the $50,000 first prize, plus an additional $50,000 bonus for his sub-2:07:30 performance. The American men fared well as Jerry Lawson of Jacksonville, FL, placed seventh in 2:09:35, just outside of the American record. Also, Todd Williams of Knoxville, TN, placed 10th in 2:11:17, the second-best American debut time ever. In all, five men cracked 2:09 and eight finished under 2:10.

Great Britain's Marian Sutton won back-to-back Chicago titles. After battling a messy nosebleed beginning at mile 20, Sutton persevered with a personal best 2:29:03. She received $50,000 plus a $4,000 bonus for her sub-2:30. In the wheelchair competition, Saul Mendoza of Snellville, GA, and Candace Cable of Truckee, CA, won with times of 1:37:42 and 1:57:32, respectively. This year's event also took a big step in expanding its international field, with 1,074 foreign athletes competing, a 202 percent increase over 1996.

October 20, 1996

Almost 11,000 runners enjoyed ideal weather conditions for the 19th running of the Chicago Marathon. With a 4:54 minute per mile pace, Englishman Paul Evans won the men's competition in 2:08:52, the eighth fastest time in the world for 1996. Sutton, also of Great Britain, won the women's race in 2:30:41 after trailing American Kristy Johnston for the first 25 miles. Evans and Sutton were both awarded $40,000 for their victories. Johnston (2:31:06) and fellow American Jerry Lawson (2:10:04) both finished second. Jacob Heilveil won the men's wheelchair competition in 1:39:57 while Ann Walters won the women's race for the sixth year in a row in 1:52:13.

After struggling to find solid financial footing throughout the early 1990s, a long-term agreement with the LaSalle Bank ensured financial backing and stability for the race. With such corporate support, the Chicago Marathon finally had the foundation to be a world-class event for years to come. Furthermore, the Marathon and the Chicago Area Runners Association (CARA), formed in 1978 partly as a protest movement, had long since settled their differences. By 1996, CARA was running its highly successful Chicago Marathon training program, with nearly 700 participants at four different locations throughout the Chicago area.

October 15, 1995

A brisk morning and gusty winds greeted the 10,802 participants in the 18th running of the Chicago Marathon. The winds quickly died down, but the men's competition remained a strategic one. Running side by side for much of the race, Eamonn Martin of Great Britain bolted past Carlos Bautista of Mexico in the last 200 meters to claim victory by just three seconds. The women's race was not nearly as tight. 1993 women's winner Ritva Lemettinen of Finland returned to Chicago and took the lead in the first two miles of the race. With only 35 men finishing before her, Lemettinen claimed her second Chicago title in 2:28:27, beating her personal best by 51 seconds. Martin and Lemettinen pocketed $35,000 of the $250,000 total purse for their victories.

Other finishers included 75-year-old Warren Utes of Park Forest, IL, who set his seventh national age group record with his time of 3:18:07. In the wheelchair competition, James Briggs of Champaign, IL, beat Scot Hollonbeck, also of Champaign, by one second, claiming victory in 1:37:12. Ann Walters, another Champaign resident, kept her streak alive in the women's competition with a victory in 1:57:27.

October 30, 1994

A new title sponsor and the accompanying financial boost from LaSalle Bank put a freshly christened "LaSalle Bank Chicago Marathon" back among the world's top races, a position not seen since 1986. Over 10,000 runners competed in cool and cloudy weather to make the 17th Chicago Marathon a spectacular event. Luiz Antonio Dos Santos of Brazil successfully defended his title with a time of 2:11:16. Kristy Johnston, a native of Coos Bay, OR, outbattled the women's competition to finish in 2:31:34. After claiming victory, she collapsed into race director Carey Pinkowski's arms at the finish line. Both Dos Santos and Johnston took home $30,000 out of the $200,000 total purse for their victories.

October 31, 1993

Snowfall, 34-degree temperatures and 12-degree wind chills greeted the 6,941 Chicago Marathon runners on Halloween (the latest race date in Chicago's history). Battling whipping wind and snow along the lakeshore, some dropped out with hypothermia. With prize money at $20,000 for the first men's and women's finishers, Luiz Antonio Dos Santos of Brazil and Ritva Lemettinen of Finland trudged through the wintry conditions to claim victory with the fastest winning times since 1990. Dos Santos became the third straight Brazilian man to win while Lemettinen was briefly disqualified with charges of running behind two male pacers who blocked the wind from her path, a violation of USA Track & Field Rule 66. The decision was later overturned due to unclear wording of Rule 66, and her victory was restored. Ann Walters won the women's wheelchair competition, continuing the streak she started in 1991. This year marked her easiest victory in 1:57:34; she was the only female competitor.

October 25, 1992

Under perfect running conditions, 8,214 runners competed in the 1992 Chicago Marathon. With a lack of depth of world-class runners, Chicago's 15th edition was difficult to predict. Jose Cesar DeSouza, with his unmatched 5:11 per mile pace, won the men's competition to become the second consecutive champion from Brazil. Linda Somers of Pleasant Hill, CA, set a personal best, winning the women's race by a two-minute margin. She would later represent the U.S. in the marathon at the 1996 Olympic Games. However, both winning times were the slowest since 1981. DeSouza and Somers each walked away with $7,500 for their victories. In the wheelchair competition, Ann Walters, uncontested, set a new course record of 1:44:29, a record that still stands today.

October 27, 1991

The 14th Chicago Marathon did not start on a positive note. The loss of another title sponsor drastically reduced the prize money for winners to $7,500, compared to $30,000 the previous year. Around 7,500 started the race, but only 5,908 crossed the finish line. Thus, even with ideal racing conditions, Joseildo Rocha of Brazil and Midde Hamrin-Senorski of Sweden finished with the slowest winning times since 1981 for both men and women. Ann Walters won the women’s wheelchair competition in 1:53:33, a streak she would continue for the next six years through 1996. No other athlete has won six consecutive Chicago Marathon titles.

October 28, 1990

As a result of the hard work of new race director Carey Pinkowski, the 1990 race was a big success. Pinkowski was the youngest director of any major U.S. marathon. More important than his effective management, however, was that Pinkowski brought the Chicago Marathon together with the Chicago Area Runners Association (CARA). As a result, he was able to get local runners and running clubs more involved than ever before in the race, especially as volunteers.

On race day, the finish could not have been more exciting. Mexico’s Martin Pitayo and Poland’s Antoni Niemczak ran the final 10 miles of the race side by side. At the last possible moment, Pitayo surged ahead to beat Niemczak by less than a step; the 0.3 second margin of victory was the narrowest in race history. Meanwhile, in her first U.S. marathon appearance, Portugal’s Aurora Cunha took the women’s title with a personal best time of 2:30:11. Pitayo and Cunha claimed $30,000 each out of the $250,000 total purse for their victories. The winners were not the only stars of the day. Local resident Ann Clark enjoyed celebrity status as spectators applauded her finish and asked her to pose with them in pictures. The 81-year-old from Carol Stream, IL, who didn’t take up running until age 64, finished in 5:46.

October 29, 1989

Along with the other 8,529 runners who started the race, and in stark contrast to the previous year, Paul Davis-Hale of Great Britain and America’s Lisa Weidenbach battled unseasonably warm temperatures, 64 percent humidity and windy conditions that accompanied the 12th Chicago Marathon. Davis-Hale won the race in 2:11:25. Weidenbach, while breaking her personal best time, became Chicago’s second repeat women’s champion. Both winners walked away with $50,000 in prize money. The oldest competitor in the race was 84-year-old Ida Mintz, who finished in 6:07. In the wheelchair competition, America’s Scot Hollonbeck won for the men in 1:45:30, and Ann Cody-Morris won for the women in 1:58:51.

October 30, 1988

With 8,700 registered runners, the Chicago Marathon was back in 1988 after a one-year demotion as a half marathon, and with a new title sponsor in Old Style. Runners were greeted with unseasonably cold temperatures in the 30s. The chilly conditions could not stop Alejandro Cruz of Mexico and Lisa Weidenbach of the U.S. from claiming victory over the 5,795 finishers. Cruz broke his country’s record with a personal best of 2:08:57. Weidenbach, of Seattle, WA, became just the fifth American woman to run a sub-2:30 marathon with her personal best 2:29:17. The champions took home a then-record $50,000 each out of the $350,000 total purse for their victories.

October 25, 1987

Due to a loss in sponsorship, the Chicago Marathon was not held in 1987. However, a half-marathon was organized to provide Chicago’s runners with a low-budget alternative. Taster’s Choice was the sponsor of the event called the Columbian Select Half-Marathon. Steve Jones, by now a hero in Chicago, returned to claim victory in 1:04:20. Kim Ballentine of Brentwood, MO, won the women’s division in 1:18:20.

October 26, 1986

The 10th anniversary Chicago Marathon delivered great racing weather. Despite the 90 percent humidity, temperatures remained in the upper 50s, providing comfortable conditions for the 12,000 runners who started the race. Japan’s Toshihiko Seko took the lead after 22 miles and went on to win in 2:08:27. Norway’s Ingrid Kristiansen dominated the women’s competition by more than two minutes. Both winners received $40,000 for their victories. However, the rest of the 8,173 runners who finished did not go home empty-handed. Due to high popularity the previous year, race officials doubled the number of massage tables and therapists, giving more than 500 racers treatment for their tired muscles.

October 20, 1985

The 1985 race featured the largest number of runners Chicago had seen to date, and the fastest. Nearly 10,000 competed as Great Britain’s Steve Jones and America’s Joan Benoit Samuelson claimed victory. Jones’ goal was to set another world record, as he had done the previous year, but he missed Carlos Lopes of Portugal’s mark by just one second. His victory earned him $35,000 for winning, $10,000 for setting the new course record and $13,000 in time bonuses for running under 2:08.

The women’s competition featured one of the top fields ever assembled, with the then-second-, fourth- and fifth-fastest times in the world being set. Ingrid Kristiansen of Norway, the world record-holder; Joan Benoit Samuelson, the 1984 Olympic Marathon gold medalist; and Rosa Mota of Portugal, the Olympic Marathon bronze medalist and Chicago’s defending champion, battled for victory. Not only did Benoit Samuelson win (missing Kristiansen’s world record by just 15 seconds), but she established new American and course records.

October 21, 1984

Despite cold temperatures and a steady downpour of rain, nearly 8,000 runners started the race, including 70 world-class athletes; both totals were event records. Great Britain’s Steve Jones delivered Chicago’s first-ever world record, establishing the event’s reputation on the international stage. According to Jones, “I had no idea what kind of pace I was running and no idea how fast they were running. I got to 24 and a half and 25 and the press truck left to go to the finish line. A writer from London shouted that if I kept it under five-minute pace, I had a chance for the record. I was confused and thought he meant a course record!” While defending her title, Portugal’s Rosa Mota also broke the women’s course record she set the previous year. For their wins, Jones and Mota took home $35,000 each out of the $250,000 purse. This year’s race also marked the first official wheelchair competition, with five men and one woman competing. Robert Fitch from East Lansing, MI took the men’s title in 2:35:06 while Jonnie Baylark from Bellwood, IL won the women’s race in 3:29:10.

October 16, 1983

Almost 7,000 runners came out for what would be the most competitive race Chicago had ever seen. Mere feet from the finish, Joseph Nzau of Kenya surged ahead and out-leaned Hugh Jones of Great Britain to win the race by half a second (2:09:44.3 to 2:09:44.8). Nzau would be the first of many Kenyan victors in Chicago, although East African dominance would not take hold of the sport for another decade and a half. In the women’s competition, Rosa Mota of Portugal took over the lead with one mile left, beating Anne Audain of New Zealand and setting a new course record. Although the race was called “America’s Marathon,” $113,000 out of the $135,000 prize purse went to 15 men and women from 11 foreign countries. A record 250,000 Chicagoans cheered on the participants, helping 5,237 mostly local runners make it to the finish.

September 26, 1982

The sixth annual Chicago Marathon was an international affair, with over 30 world-class runners from eight different nations competing among the 6,014 racers, 4,642 of whom finished. But it was Americans Greg Meyer and Nancy Konz, both from Massachusetts, who won the day, both establishing new course records (by three and 12 minutes, respectively). Not only did they take home the thrill of victory, but also the event’s first prize money checks ($12,000 for each out of a $77,000 purse).

September 27, 1981

While most runners were sleeping, two participants began the 1981 Chicago Marathon at 2 a.m. on Sunday in order to finish the entire 26.2-mile course by the 3:30 p.m. deadline...walking. At the regular start time, another 5,400 joined them, ages seven to 78 years old, including 12 corporate teams, two wheelchair entrants and one blind runner. With 1,800 volunteers helping out along the way and 25,000 spectators, Iowa’s Phil Coppess, running his third marathon, and Tina Gandy of Minnesota raced against 25 mile per hour winds on their way to victory.

September 28, 1980

With temperatures in the low 60s, more than 4,600 runners turned out for a race in ideal conditions. Frank Richardson, a newlywed of just 49 days from Iowa, and Sue Peterson, a Californian who crossed the finish line alongside her husband Pete, claimed victories with the fastest winning times Chicago had seen to date. Ida Mintz, 74, finished the race with her son, daughter-in-law and grandson in 4:45, claiming the title of the world’s oldest female marathoner. Jane Schiff was the Chicago Marathon’s first unofficial wheelchair winner with a time of 3:02:38. Proceeds of the 1980 race went to the Chicago Boys Club.

October 21, 1979

After miserable running weather the previous year, race organizers attempted to avoid similar conditions by pushing the race date back to October. Despite these efforts, temperatures were once again against runners’ favor as 3,700 race starters battled the 77 degree heat, 81 percent humidity and 20 mile per hour wind gusts along the lakefront. Due to the challenging conditions, only 2,869 runners finished the race. Dan Cloeter, the 1977 winner, returned to claim the men’s victory. Shortly after winning, he collapsed with severe dehydration. Nancy Reid and Donna Simmons illegally “dropped in” to place first and second for the women, but were disqualified when it was proven that they did not run the entire race. This gave the victory to 15-year-old Laura Michalek of Berwyn, IL, the youngest winner in Chicago Marathon history. Also for the record book, both the men’s and women’s times are still Chicago’s slowest winning times. Beatrice Foods sponsored the race for the first time, providing their Tropicana orange juice and Dannon yogurt to exhausted runners at the finish line.

September 24, 1978

Organizing the second Chicago Marathon was not an easy task. Controversy surrounding the start time and entry fee developed, leaving founders divided. On one side were those who wanted a $10 entry fee and a noon kick-off. The later start time would draw more spectators and publicity, while also allowing out-of-town participants more travel time. On the other side were those who felt $10 was too expensive and that a noon start time could be detrimental to the runners, especially the slower participants who would be running in the heat of the afternoon. They also felt that organizers were putting the interest of the media before that of the runners. While the $10 entry fee remained, a compromise of a 10:30 a.m. start time was finally reached. (In November 1978, Dr. Noel Nequin, along with Erma Trantor, Sharon Mier and other protesters, ended their involvement and formed the Chicago Area Runners Association (CARA) to manage races for runners’ protection.)

On race day, thousands of participants wore black armbands in protest of the later start time. The Chicago Marathon quickly became a dual competition—the race against time and the battle against the heat. With lakefront temperatures reaching 85 degrees, nearly 300 runners were treated for blisters or heat exhaustion, while 10 more were taken to local hospitals for heat-related issues and dehydration. But the warm temperatures couldn’t stop Arizona’s Mark Stanforth or South Dakota’s Lynae Larson. Both conquered the heat to claim victory over the 4,053 finishers. For the first time in U.S. history a dual start was used, the two points a block apart, which helped spread out the 5,200 starters. Plenty of water was available to help quench thirst, and most agreed that the second Chicago Marathon was a success.

September 25, 1977

More than 4,200 runners gathered at Daley Plaza for the first Mayor Daley Marathon, making it the largest marathon in the world at the time in terms of registered runners. Dan Cloeter of Indiana and Dorothy Doolittle of Texas battled the crowds to become Chicago’s first winners in a race that with 2,128 finishers. Other competitors included Wesley Paul, an eight-year-old who finished in 3:15:20, setting a world record in his age group. Jack Donahue was the final person across the finish line at 7:09:42. The only glitch of the race occurred when the ceremonial starter’s cannon misfired into the crowd, injuring two spectators. Ironically, the two burned were the wife and daughter of Wayne Goeldner, an original race founder. Despite the accident, the event ran very smoothly and, as advertised, was an event for the whole city to enjoy.

The Founding

In November 1976 at the Metropolitan YMCA on LaSalle Street, five key founders of what would eventually become the Bank of America Chicago Marathon met to begin discussions and planning. Those present included Wayne Goeldner, physical education director of the Hyde Park YMCA; Wendell “Wendy” Miller, a partner in a financial advising firm and founder of Midwest Masters Running Club; Bill Robinson, executive director of Friends of Parks; Sharon Mier, director of women’s sports at the Loop Center YMCA; and Dr. Noel Nequin, director of cardiac rehabilitation at the Swedish Covenant Hospital. At this meeting, the group decided it was time for a marathon in Chicago.

Talks of a marathon continued, but little was actually done to stage the race. The turning point came in May 1977 when Dr. Nequin organized the first “mega” race in Chicago—the Ravenswood Bank Lakefront 10-Mile Run. The race was a great success, with more than 1,000 runners participating, up from an expected 200-300. Michael Bilandic, Chicago’s new mayor and an avid runner, was invited to the event. Not only did he show up to lend his support, but he and his wife, Heather, also handed out the awards to the winners. The mayor’s strong support and overwhelming runner participation gave the marathon’s founders, who weren’t quite sure if a marathon could succeed in Chicago, the inspiration they needed to make the city’s first 26.2-mile road race a reality.

Suddenly, 1977 became a landmark year for running in Chicago. Several other shorter races were organized for the first time in addition to the Chicago Marathon, including the Chicago Distance Classic with almost 5,000 runners, an unheard number of participants at the time. But running fever did not stop with the new races. After seeing the success of the Lakefront 10, Mayor Bilandic decided to make Chicago “the running capital of the world.” To further show his support, Bilandic turned five miles of an old equestrian path along the lakefront into jogging paths, creating a scenic course for runners that today stretches 18 miles and serves as the hub of the Chicago running community. Thus, with all of the new events and opportunities, the sport of running in Chicago was enjoying a groundswell of excitement and participation.

By July 1977, Wendy Miller approached his friend and fellow Chicago businessman Lee Flaherty to rally support. Miller convinced Flaherty, a running enthusiast himself, to have his company, Flair Communications, be the official sponsor of the Chicago Marathon. Dr. Nequin and Flaherty then had a lunch meeting at the Drake Hotel with William Daley, son of the late Mayor Richard J. Daley, about naming the event. Following the meeting, the Daley family gave its blessing to name the race the Mayor Daley Marathon.

Initially set up with a $5 entry fee and an 8 a.m. start time, the race was scheduled for September 25, 1977, and specific jobs were distributed amongst the founders. Dr. Nequin was the medical director; Miller was the race director; Goeldner was in charge of registration; Mier was responsible for organizing 700 volunteers to marshal and officiate the race; and Robinson was treasurer. In addition, Erma Trantor, a friend of Mier’s, was hired to be the race coordinator; Ruth Ratny, a business friend of Flaherty’s, was the publicist.

The first ever Mayor Daley Marathon was soon to be a great success. Ads declared it the “people’s race anyone can come and enjoy,” and that was the approach organizers took. Then, on September 25, the hard work of many dedicated people who established the race as something for the entire city, paid off.

ABOUT THE ABBOTT WORLD MARATHON MAJORS

For runners across the globe, competing in an Abbott World Marathon Majors (AbbottWMM) race is a significant accomplishment. Seven of the largest and most renowned road races in the world—the Tokyo, Boston presented by Bank of America, TCS London, TCS Sydney, BMW BERLIN, Bank of America Chicago, and TCS New York City Marathons—make up the AbbottWMM. The organization delivers several unique benefits to runners:

- Unparalleled experiences: Operational excellence at each race ensures a premium race-day journey for runners.
- A professional series – the best professional athletes in the world competing to become the Series Champion.
- Promotion of marathon running – AbbottWMM organizers aggressively champion anti-doping protocols and make many other efforts to move the sport forward.

HISTORY

Organizers of the Boston, London, Berlin, Chicago, and New York City marathons joined together in 2006 to create Abbott World Marathon Majors (AbbottWMM) with a mission of providing global leadership in elite and mass participation marathons. The Tokyo Marathon entered the collective in 2013 and in October 2014, Abbott, a global healthcare company, and the World Marathon Majors announced a new partnership. Abbott became the race series’ first-ever title sponsor, effective at the 2015 Tokyo Marathon.

The series expanded to include wheelchair athletes starting at the 2016 Boston Marathon.

Under a strategic partnership with the Wanda Sports Group, now spearheaded by Infront Sports & Media, the search began in 2017 for the next three Abbott World Marathon Majors. In 2024, the TCS Sydney Marathon presented by ASICS passed the AbbottWMM Candidacy process and became the seventh Major.

The Sanlam Cape Town Marathon and Shanghai Marathon are currently in the candidacy process. Candidates must pass all of AbbottWMM’s criteria for two consecutive events in order to complete the process and join the series.

The Majors are the industry’s leading organizations and are united in their effort to advance the sport, raise awareness of marathons’ elite athletes and inspire the world through marathons.

Dawna Stone was appointed as the Chief Executive Officer of the World Marathon Majors in July 2022.

ABBOTTWMM WANDA AGE GROUP WORLD RANKINGS

The Abbott World Marathon Majors (AbbottWMM) Marathon Tours & Travel (MTT) Age Group World Rankings began in 2018 and the sixth series of qualifying ends December 31, 2025.

The inaugural AbbottWMM MTT Age Group World Championships was delayed due to the COVID-19 Pandemic and was held for both first and second edition qualifiers as part of the TCS London Marathon on October 3, 2021.

The second World Championships was again held as part of the TCS London Marathon on October 2, the 2023 AbbottWMM MTT Age Group World Championships was held as part of the 2023 Bank of America Chicago Marathon and the 2024 edition was staged within the 2024 TCS Sydney Marathon presented by Asics.

In 2025 the championship takes place at the TCS New York City Marathon before traveling to Africa for the first time in 2026 to occur within the Sanlam Cape Town Marathon.

Participants in an AbbottWMM MTT Age Group World Ranking qualifying race earn a position in the rankings based on their finish time aligned with the following age groups for men and women: 40-44, 45-49, 50-54, 55-59, 60-64, 65-69, 70-74, 75-79, 80+.

SIX STAR FINISHERS

The Six Star system was launched at the 2016 Tokyo Marathon with more than 22,000 runners having completed the milestone (as of September 2024) and received the much sought-after Six Star medal.

ABBOTTWMM GLOBAL RUN CLUB

The AbbottWMM Global Run Club launched in August 2020 and aims to bring together the global community of marathon runners on a virtual platform. Alongside free monthly challenges and races, the club stages two virtual Global Marathons each year with top-ranked runners earning an invite to the AbbottWMM MTT Age Group World Championships the following year.

For more information, visit www.abbottwmmglobalrunclub.com

SERIES FORMAT

The champions of the Abbott World Marathon Majors (AbbottWMM) are crowned following the final race of the calendar year, the TCS New York City Marathon. The elite Abbott World Marathon Majors Series consists of the six Majors along with the Olympic/Paralympic Marathon and the World Athletics/World Para Athletics Championships Marathon in the years that they occur.

Series XVII began at the 2025 Tokyo Marathon and will conclude at the TCS New York City Marathon on November 2, 2025.

Points System: The champions of the AbbottWMM Series are the male and female athletes who score the greatest number of points from Qualifying Races during the Series. During each scoring period, points from a maximum of two Qualifying Races will be scored. An athlete must start in two Qualifying Races over the Series cycle to be eligible for the championship. If an athlete earns points in more than two events, the athlete’s highest two finishes will be scored. The Wheelchair Series follows the same rules, but points from an athlete’s best four races count towards the total, or best five during years with Paralympic Games or World Championships.

Points are allocated following each race as follows:

1st place	2nd place	3rd place	4th place	5th place
25 points	16 points	9 points	4 points	1 point

Doping Violations: Under AbbottWMM rules, no athlete who has been found guilty of any anti-doping rules enforced by World Athletics, World Anti-Doping Association (WADA), National Federations, or any of the individual AbbottWMM races is eligible to win the AbbottWMM championship title. Athletes must comply with the AbbottWMM Code of Conduct.

Rita Jeptoo (KEN) won four races in the 2013/14 series but gave positive A and B samples in an out-of-competition test in September 2014. Her standings and the final results of the 2013/14 Series have been determined at the completion of the due legal process and the outcome of an appeal. As a result, the Series VIII title has been awarded to Edna Kiplagat.*

Edna Kiplagat was crowned women’s Series X champion following the doping investigation and legal process against Jemima Sumgong (KEN), who won two races but gave a positive sample in an out-of-competition test in February 2017.

ABOUT THE TOKYO MARATHON

Organized by the Tokyo Marathon Foundation, the inaugural Tokyo Marathon was held on February 18, 2007. Through its theme, “The Day We Unite,” the Tokyo Marathon has gathered together runners, volunteers and spectators for 18 years. In 2011, the Tokyo Marathon implemented its own charity program, “Run with Heart” through which donors can contribute to various charitable activities.

Since the event’s 10th anniversary in 2016, the official race logo has been renewed to represent the portrayed images of the runners, volunteers and cheering crowds along the course, which signifies the race theme “The Day We Unite.” In 2017, the race adopted a new course that finishes in front of the Tokyo station area, and in 2018 saw a new Japanese record set for the first time in 16 years. Since the course change, the Tokyo Marathon has seen many record-breaking times for both men and women.

“Run. Tokyo. Own.” “The Day We Unite.”
As the 20th edition of the Tokyo Marathon approaches in 2027, we thought about a new interpretation of “The Day We Unite,” one that looks a little bit into the future. Everyone who has taken part in the Tokyo Marathon has united as one, helping shape the event into what it is today. Our vision is to make this marathon truly unique—an epoch-making event on the world stage. We believe that this can be achieved when everyone who takes part in the race allows themselves to be free.

One — as in “coming together as one.” One — as in “each individual person.” We made this “oneness” our message and Key Visual, we’ve drawn inspiration from the Japanese character for “one” (一), a single horizontal stroke — and the faint white lane markings of Tokyo’s streets.

ABOUT THE TCS LONDON MARATHON

In 1979, after running the New York City Marathon with John Disley, Chris Brasher questioned whether London could stage such a festival: “We have the course . . . but do we have the heart and hospitality to welcome the world?” Later that year, Brasher travelled to America and witnessed the Boston Marathon and revisited the New York City race, studying their organization and finances. On his return, Brasher and Disley secured a three-year contract with Gillette for £75,000, established the organization’s charitable status, and set down six main aims for the event. The first London Marathon was then held on March 29, 1981 when there were 6,255 finishers, led home by American Dick Beardsley and Norwegian Inge Simonsen who famously crossed the finish line hand in hand.

The London Marathon has subsequently raised more than £1.3 billion for charity since that first edition in 1981 and had more than one million finishers. The event is viewed in more than 196 countries worldwide and watched by between four and five million viewers in the UK via the BBC. The most recent London Marathon, held on Sunday 27 April 2025, was the historic 45th edition and a string of world records were broken. 56,640 people finished the event, which set a new Guinness World Records title for the largest number of finishers in a marathon, while more than £75 million was raised for charity, a world record for the biggest annual one-day fundraising event. Furthermore, a world record 1,113,813 people applied in the public ballot for an entry into the 2026 TCS London Marathon on Sunday 26 April 2026.

ABOUT THE BOSTON MARATHON PRESENTED BY BANK OF AMERICA

Inspired by their experience at the 1896 Olympic Games, several members of the Boston Athletic Association founded their own marathon in 1897. The race has been run every year since, and the Boston Marathon is recognized as the world’s oldest annual marathon (the 1918 edition featured a military relay and the 2020 edition was run as a Virtual Experience). Both the start and finish lines have moved slightly over the years, but much of the course remains exactly as it was originally designed. Since 1924 the point-to-point race has started in the town of Hopkinton and finished on Boston’s historic Boylston Street. Runners must qualify for entry by meeting time standards corresponding to gender and age, which is another aspect – besides its course and longevity – unique to the Boston Marathon.

ABOUT THE TCS SYDNEY MARATHON

The first edition of the TCS Sydney Marathon as an Abbott World Marathon Major was delivered on Sunday, August 31, 2025, with 35,000 marathon runners as part of the field. The newest member of the series is also a World Athletics Platinum Label event and is the sole remaining participant legacy of the Sydney 2000 Olympic games.

The marathon course starts at the same location as the Sydney 2000 Olympic Marathon, in North Sydney, and takes runners across the iconic Sydney Harbour Bridge, around the landmarks of The Rocks, Circular Quay and Centennial Park, before finishing in front of the world-famous Sydney Opera House.

The race is the largest marathon in Australia and has had exponential growth since becoming a candidate to join the Abbott World Marathon Majors in 2022. The event is the only Abbott World Marathon Major in the Southern Hemisphere.

ABOUT THE BMW BERLIN MARATHON

A group of runners headed by Horst Milde from one of Germany’s most prestigious athletics clubs, SC Charlottenburg, organized the first Berlin Marathon in 1974 and it quickly developed into Germany’s biggest and best-quality marathon after moving to the city center in 1981.

A new era began after the Berlin Wall came down in November 1989. On September 30, 1990, three days before reunification, the Berlin Marathon went through Brandenburg Gate linking both parts of Berlin. The flat and fast loop course was changed significantly for the 2003 race when Paul Tergat ran a world record of 2:04:55. Haile Gebrselassie broke that record in 2007 and 2008; Patrick Makau reclaimed the record for Kenya in 2011, followed by compatriots Wilson Kipsang in 2013. Dennis Kimetto became the first runner worldwide to achieve a sub 2:03 time in 2014 (2:02:57) and then Eliud Kipchoge smashed this mark in 2018. Running 2:01:39 he crowned the 45th edition of the BMW BERLIN-MARATHON by improving the former mark by 1:18 minutes, the biggest advance in the men’s marathon world record for more than 50 years. In 2022 Eliud Kipchoge achieved an incredible world record of 2:01:09 hours. The Kenyan thus improved his own best time by exactly half a minute. 22 years after the last world record on the women’s side in Berlin, Tigst Assefa (ETH) set a new world record at the BMW BERLIN-MARATHON 2023. She stayed over two minutes under the previously existing record and ran an incredible 2:11:53 hours. A staggering total of 13 world records have been broken in the BMW BERLIN-MARATHON, which is unique. At the 50th BMW BERLIN-MARATHON in 2024, 54,280 finishers were registered at the finish line. With this verified record result, the BMW BERLIN-MARATHON was the biggest marathon in the world at the time.

ABOUT THE BANK OF AMERICA CHICAGO MARATHON

In 1976, a small band of running enthusiasts met at the Metropolitan YMCA on LaSalle Street to discuss and plan a marathon in Chicago. This founding group realized their vision on September 25, 1977, when they hosted 4,200 local participants in the first Chicago Marathon. The Bank of America Chicago Marathon has since expanded to more than 48,000 finishers and an estimated 1.7 million on-course spectators. The flat and fast course begins and ends in historic Grant Park, sweeping through 29 diverse and colorful neighborhoods including Lakeview, Greektown, Little Italy, Pilsen, Chinatown, and Bronzeville. The loop course and abundance of public transportation options enables friends and family to cheer their runners on at many locations along the course. The Bank of America Chicago Marathon has a long history of hosting the world’s fastest runners and has been the site of three men’s world records (Steve Jones, 2:08:05, 1984; Khalid Khannouchi, 2:05:42, 1999; and Kelvin Kiptum, 2:00:35, 2023) and four women’s world records (Catherine Ndereba, 2:18:47, 2001; Paula Radcliffe, 2:17:18, 2002; Brigid Kosgei, 2:14:04, 2019; Ruth Chepngetich, 2:09:56, 2024).

ABOUT THE TCS NEW YORK CITY MARATHON

The TCS New York City Marathon one of 60 adult and youth races held annually by nonprofit New York Road Runners (NYRR). Taking place each year on the first Sunday in November, the race features the world’s top professional athletes and a vast range of competitive, recreational, and charity runners. The race began in 1970 with just 127 entrants running four laps around Central Park and expanded citywide in 1976. Each year, runners tour New York City’s five boroughs, starting on Staten Island at the foot of the Verrazzano-Narrows Bridge, and running through the neighborhoods of Brooklyn, Queens, and the Bronx, before ending in Manhattan at the iconic Central Park finish line. Tata Consultancy Services (TCS), a leading global IT services, consulting and business solutions organization, is the premier partner of NYRR and the title sponsor of the TCS New York City Marathon. RITA SOLA COOK

President, Bank of America Chicago

Managing Director, Midwest and Mid Atlantic Division Executive, Private Bank

Rita Sola Cook is President of Bank of America Chicago, as well as Managing Director and Division Executive for the Midwest, Mid Atlantic, and Mid South Divisions of Bank of America Private Bank. Drawing on more than twenty-five years with the firm, she provides strategic direction and sustained leadership in overseeing the delivery of impactful banking and wealth-management capabilities to individuals, families, businesses and institutions.

As President of Bank of America Chicago, Rita is responsible for connecting people and companies across Chicagoland to the suite of banking and investment resources offered by the Bank’s lines of business. In addition, she leads the Bank’s efforts in addressing social concerns, strengthening economic opportunities, building strong communities and facilitating the well-being and engagement of local employees.

Rita also serves as the Division Executive for the Midwest, Mid Atlantic, and Mid South Divisions of Bank of America Private Bank. In this capacity, she leads the Division in providing a differentiated caliber of strategy, advice and service to high-net-worth and ultra-high-net-worth clients, helping to advance their distinctive priorities with care and customization.

Since joining Bank of America in 1997, Rita has taken on increasing responsibilities in finance, management and operations, gaining diverse client-segment and product acumen. Prior to her current role, she served as the Global Banking and Markets Anti-Money-Laundering Executive, the Global Commercial Banking Midwest Region Executive and the Global Commercial Banking Chief Operating Officer. She holds a bachelor’s degree in accounting from Governors State University.

Rita is active in the Chicago community. She serves on the board of directors for the Griffin Museum of Science and Industry, the Art Institute of Chicago, the Chicago Zoological Society, and World Business Chicago; is a member of the Economic Club of Chicago, the Civic Committee of the Commercial Club of Chicago, The Chicago Network, and a Trustee for the Chicago Community Trust. Rita lives with her husband and daughter in Mokena, Illinois.

CAREY PINKOWSKI
Executive Race Director
Bank of America Chicago Marathon

Carey Pinkowski came to the helm of the Bank of America Chicago Marathon three decades ago, serving as its executive race director since 1990. During his tenure, the Chicago Marathon has experienced astronomical growth, expanding from 6,000 registered participants in 1990 to a record 52,150 finishers in 2024, including participants from all 50 states and more than 130 countries. For more than 30 years, Pinkowski has been a key player in building the Marathon’s dynamic relationships with the city, the corporate community and the local neighborhoods along the course.

Under Pinkowski’s leadership, the Bank of America Chicago Marathon delivers far more than fast performances. Each year, the event generates an economic impact on the City of Chicago of $282 million, and, since 2002, thousands of runners have helped the event’s Charity Program raise more than $358 million for local, national and global causes.

In 2006, Pinkowski utilized his experience as Executive Race Director of the Chicago Marathon to help found the Abbott World Marathon Majors (AbbottWMM). Pinkowski, along with the organizers of the Boston, London, Berlin and New York City marathons, created a series with the mission of providing global leadership in professional and mass participation marathons. The Tokyo Marathon entered the collective in 2013 and the Sydney Marathon joined in 2024. These industry-leading organizations are now united in their effort to advance the sport, raise awareness of marathons’ elite athletes and inspire the world through marathons.

Pinkowski’s legacy with the Chicago Marathon includes designing its record setting and spectator friendly course, starting and finishing in Chicago’s Grant Park. The course design allows for more than 1.7 million spectators to watch the race, making the marathon an annual gathering for the entire City of Chicago. Six of the Chicago Marathon’s seven world records have been set during Pinkowski’s time: Morocco’s Khalid Khannouchi (1999), Kenya’s Catherine Ndereba (2001), Great Britain’s Paula Radcliffe (2002), Kenya’s Brigid Kosgei (2019), Kenya’s Kelvin Kiptum (2023) and Kenya’s Ruth Chepngetich (2024). Great Britain’s Steve Jones recorded Chicago’s first-ever world record in 1984.

To commemorate his 20th anniversary as Executive Race Director, the City of Chicago and Bank of America bestowed Pinkowski with an honorary street naming – “Carey Pinkowski Drive” – at the intersection of Monroe Street and Columbus Drive, the site of the race’s start line.

DR. GEORGE T. CHIAMPAS, DO CAQSM FACEP
Medical Director
Bank of America Chicago Marathon

Dr. Chiampas is an assistant professor in the Department of Emergency Medicine at the Feinberg School of Medicine at Northwestern University and Northwestern Memorial Hospital. He is the founder and co-director of Chicago Cardiac Arrest and Resuscitation and Educational Services (CCARES), a foundation that promotes public education, awareness, training and legislation on sudden cardiac death.

Dr. Chiampas has served as Bank of America Chicago Marathon Medical Director since 2007. During this time, the Chicago Marathon has become a global leader in operational safety and emergency preparedness and response in mass event incidents. Dr. Chiampas has led grant funding from the National Scientific Foundation on mass event management. Chiampas has also served as a president and is currently a board member of the International Institute for Race Medicine (IIRM), which promotes runner and race safety globally.

Additionally, Dr. Chiampas has served as the chief medical officer for U.S. Soccer and the U.S. men’s national team since 2014. He is a team physician for the Chicago Blackhawks and previously worked with Northwestern University Athletics, serving as interim head team physician at Northwestern from 2011-2013. He serves on the Gatorade Sports Science Institute (GSSI) speakers’ panel.

Dr. Chiampas has authored numerous scientific publications and he has lectured at academic conferences and scientific meetings throughout the world. His primary topics of interest and expertise are mass event and community preparedness and safety, sports injuries and sudden cardiac death survival and public awareness through CPR and AED availability.

He chairs the public safety and prevention committee for the Chicago Medical Society. His professional goal is to enhance sports and public safety for individual and team sports through mass event emergency preparedness.
